

Mrs. Edna Whitver, January 9, 1951

I have told you before I shall never forget the pleasant times I have had with you and your husband. Mr. Whitver must have died quite young. I remember well how he took me out along the canal and explained to me where certain fortifications were hidden and so forth.

I am still hoping that you will find yourself in Lawrence some of these days. I hope you had a happy holiday season.

Cordially yours,

W. C. Simons
