

3 but Ettaile wanted I should do all business with Mrs. H. of course. I think I shall go to Fort Morgan Co. as soon as things are under way & safe then I shall most assuredly turn over the farm to you as you would be the only one out side of Heaven, Hell; or any of the intermediate ports that would trust when it came to a show down.
Why cant we both go to Washington & look after it ourselves. Your R.R. fare would not cost you anything as you could obtain a pass. Callie you talk very much as though you did not think I would ever get a cent for my money that I put into the sale, to keep her from going under, as you seem to think our debt is the only salvation I have to look to for my support. Tell me, do you think I am going to lose every thing.
Ettaile has not answered my last 2 letters and she has always been so prompt before. I wrote her good letters & said nothing offensive to her. well, Callie, Libber, Knowls, Chancellor, Count von Bismarck. write me I like to hear from you. DV
