My Dear Callie and Gertrude: - I came here yesterday morning and will return to Henderson tomorrow. I am having a splendid visit with old friends who would be very glad to have me stay with them as long as I like and I never can forget the kindness, tenderness, and sympathy they always have shown me during Aunt Belle's sickness and since her death; the kind friends that never tire and are always anxious to do more. They were both present when she passed away, & nearly all of the
