Dear Marilyn,

This will not be much of a letter, but it will again express my love for you and my interest in your welfare. We have completed housecleaning at home and shall be very happy to have you and Bob come in to see us as soon as you can.

I shall always remember the very pleasant visit I had with you at your home. I want you to know that I am very fond of Bob. He seems to be a fine and capable young man.

Lots of love,

Grandad
