Mrs. Dora Goldsmith
South Haven, Michigan

My good friend of many years,

I was very glad to receive your card from Sarasota, Florida. A lot of water has gone under the dam since you were with us, and if ever there was a case of one good turn deserving another and getting it, I think it applies to the acquaintance between you and our family.

As I recall you were rather lonely for friends after the death of your grandmother, and you found that friendship with Gertrude. We did you a good turn in helping you through a very dangerous illness and you in turn repaid us by staying with Blanch preceeding the birth of our daughter, Janet.

I think you deserve a lot of credit and must have been endowed with a lot of courage and self confidence to have done so well when you were left almost friendless upon the death of your grandmother.

I have ten grandchildren, who have seven sons and three daughters, and I also have three great grandsons.

With best wishes, I remain,

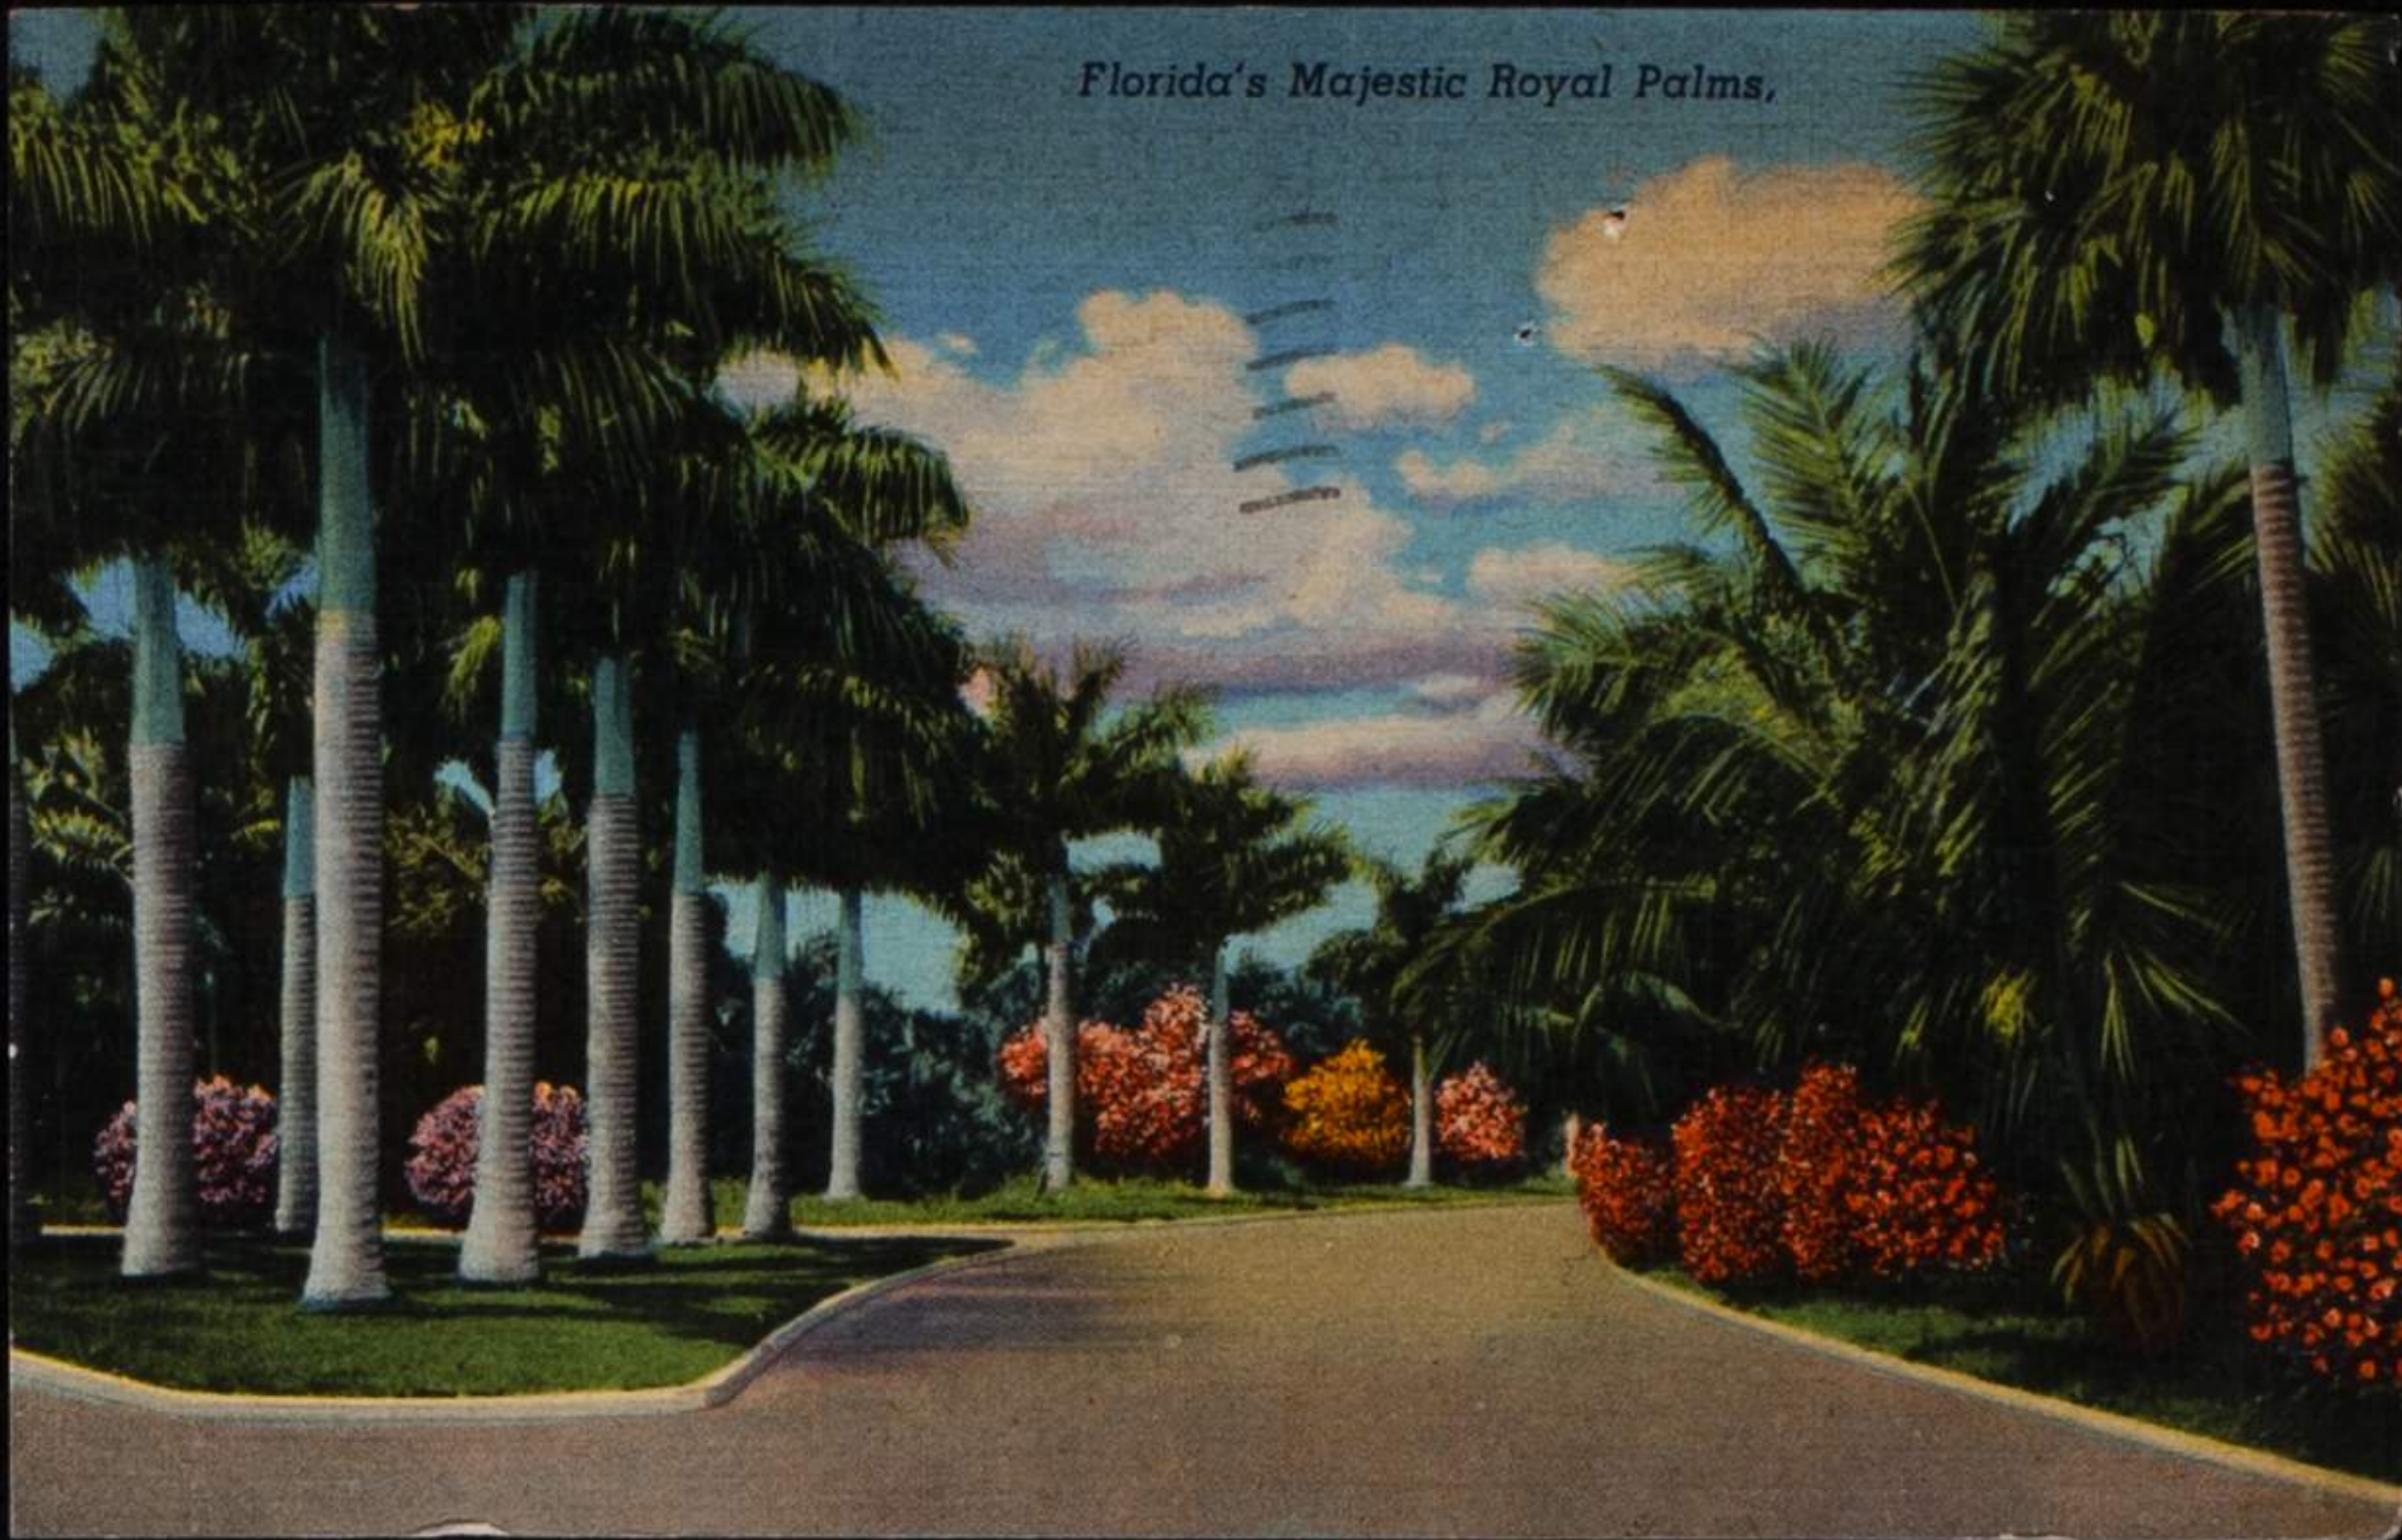

Sincerely yours,

W. C. Simons

Lawrence, Kansas

Dear Mrs. Spalding,

You have my sincere sympathy in the death of your husband. You have lived together happily for many years, and I am sure the separation will be hard, although all of your friends will try to make life just as pleasant for you as possible.

Mr. Spalding had been my acquaintance and friend ever since I came to Lawrence. I know that your maiden name was Cox and I hope that some of your relatives are still here.

After leading a busy business life for many years, it seemed very fine for Mr. Spalding, in his later years, to give so much time to the public. I think it quite remarkable that he retained his energy and activity in spite of increasing age.

With very best wishes, I remain,

Your friend,

Dear Doctor and Mrs. Counseller:

I am in receipt of the invitation to the wedding and am planning on being there. I am apparently in good health and see no reason why I can not be present.

I shall be very happy to have Pamela a member of our family, and I do hope I will be able to attend the wedding.

Dear Miss Matthews,

I was glad to receive your letter of January 11, but so sorry to know that your sisters have passed away.

I was sorry not to have seen Miss Jessie when I was there, but because she had been young and pretty at the time I painted her picture and was then along in years, she probably did not wish me to see her.

If you ever have occasion to come to the west, I shall be very happy to have you see the picture that I painted about 55 years ago. I have painted but one other picture since that time.

I have pleasant memories of Clovercroft in its setting of magnificent trees.

With very kindest regards, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Surveyor Russell Sublette
Eudora, Kansas

Gentlemen:

Harold Wheeler, for many years county and city engineer, told me a number of times that I and the owners of land to the north of me and south of 23rd Street were entitled to seven feet more land to the east than we now occupy.

We have a very complete set of early maps and surveys at our office and doubtless you have an equally good or better set, but we shall be glad to have you refer to ours if you wish.

I haven't thought of trying to claim or occupy this additional land, but if we are entitled to it, I should like to have it appear on the records so that we could at least maintain the lines where they are.

Unfortunately I did not have Mr. Wheeler put this in writing, but the surveys should verify his statement. If at any time you wish to look at the maps which we have, we shall be pleased to show them to you. They are wrapped up with an atlas of Douglas County printed a good many years ago.

For your further information, some years ago, the son of W. H. Wilcox, 940 Louisiana, made a number of maps of the city of Lawrence for us, which we have on file at our office. I think the young man, whose name at that time was Clio Wilcox, is the Don Wilcox of 333 Johnson Street, although I am not certain. It is my opinion that he changed his name from Clio to Don to avoid the feminine appearance of the name Clio.

Yours very truly,

Miss Kate Matthews
Clovercroft

Dear Miss Matthews:

As I sit in my living room, the picture I painted of your sister, Jessie, hangs on the east wall of the room facing me, and it often reminds me of you and your home, and your sister, whom I did not see.

I don't remember just what year it was that Mrs. Simons, our daughter, Dorothea, and myself called at Clovercroft on our way east. That was quite a number of years ago, and my little daughter has since been married and has three fine sons.

I heard somewhere that one of the three Matthew sisters had passed away.

I have in my hand a season's greeting, a little card about an inch deep and two inches wide, on the back of which you have written "Kate Matthews, Clovercroft". I don't remember when it came, but it made me think of you and your beautiful home.

I think I painted the picture of your sister about 54 years ago. Mrs. Simons passed away at the close of 1948.

I trust that my information in regard to the passing of one of the sisters is not true, but as it was more than 50 years ago that I painted the picture, we are all growing old.

With very best wishes to you and yours for 1952, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Mr. W. C. Simons
Journal-World
Lawrence, Kansas

Dear Mr. Simons:

I had a letter the other day from J. L. Frazier, and he told me that he had retired. He also sent this little news weekly to me, and I thought you might be interested in seeing it.

I saw J. L. in Chicago about four years ago when I was up there to the piano convention, and we had a wonderful visit. He wasn't much interested in telling me about his work; all he wanted to talk about was the old days when we were on the Journal-World together. I know I must be getting old, W. C., although I don't feel like it, because I enjoyed that considerably, and they say that a person is getting old when they want to talk about the past.

By the way, my sister May sent me a booklet not long ago, printed by Ed Martindell, showing the 1903 flood, and that was extremely interesting to me.

I hope you won't come down to Kansas City without letting me take you out to lunch, <sup>MR</sup> Simons. I will see you this fall, I suppose, because I have football seats at the games; however, we leave at the last minute and get out of town immediately, when we go up and don't get much visiting done. I keep saying that I'll take a day or two off and just do nothing but visit with old Lawrence folks some day. I never seem to get to it, however.

The Kanaga family are all well, and I hope that you are, too. I see your two nice grandsons up at the Phi Delt house occasionally. Clint, Jr. is a major in the marine corps reserve, and Bill is a lieutenant, j. g., in the naval reserve. I am hoping they won't have to go again. Bill is with Arthur Young & Company, Accountants, in New York City and is not married, and we are all hoping that he will move back to the Middle West next year after he gets his C.P.A. He had a year at the Babson Institute in Boston after K. U. He got his last year up there after he got out of the navy.

Mary Louise, my oldest child, is married and lives in Emporia. She is married to a nice Emporia boy, Frank Warren, and has three children. Clint, Jr. has a baby boy now, and he is about to bust with pride.

I guess that takes care of all the news, Mr. Simons. Some time when you have a moment, dictate a note and tell me about everyone in your family.

With best wishes and trusting that I will see you some time this fall, I am,

As ever yours,

Kansas City 13, Missouri

Dear Clint:

I have before me your good letter dated August 30, 1951, and the thought comes to me that I have been a heck of a long time in answering it.

I appreciate the news concerning Frazier, who left our employ 37 years ago to take over his work on the Inland Printer at Chicago. He was a competent and likeable man, and I have taken pleasure in his advancement. The Inland Printer has long been referred to as the "printer's bible", and I can recall Frazier when he was working for us. He used to submit samples of his work to that publication.

I am afraid he will feel somewhat lost unless he still has enough connections with the publication to keep him busy. I remember his wife as an attractive, young woman but I do not recall that they had any children while they were here, although they may have had some after going to Chicago.

For some reason Lawrence has turned out some very capable and notable men, who had years experience on the Journal-World and its forerunners: the late Charles F. Scott, a representative from the second district in congress for many years; Roy Roberts, president of the Kansas City Star; the late Billy Morgan of Hutchinson; and William Allen White of Emporia, all had their start here in Lawrence. My son, Dolph, has been recognized by being Vice President of the Associated Press and president of the Alumni Association of the University of Kansas. So it seems that the Journal-World has played a real part in the life of Lawrence and the University as well as having been identified with a number of national institutions.

Greetings

I think probably that my 60 years of active connection with the newspaper business of Lawrence has meant something to the city and state, and I am happy that I have had a part in helping to develop men like yourself and Mr. Frazier.

I don't get down to Kansas City often. I am getting too darn old. But I did go to Topeka to attend the funeral of my long-time friend, Arthur Capper.

Phil Ernst, Julius Marks and Ed Parsons are about the only businessmen in Lawrence who were here when I began business. Arthur Weaver, whose grandfather was Lathrop Bullene, was one of the early and most successful of Lawrence merchants, although Art was not identified with the business for some years.

I frequently recall a few lines of the poem which started out, "If I should live to be the last leaf upon the tree", and it comes fairly near to fitting me now. I have had a very pleasant and enjoyable life in Lawrence and am happy that the business which I named and had an early part in founding will be ably handled by my son and probably my grandsons.

You may recall that Charlie Finch used to write a good deal in laying claim to improvements in which perhaps he had had but a very small part. While I had more to do with bringing natural gas and good water to Lawrence than any other man, I have never called attention to such service in the Journal-World.

But I am happy that the paper through the years has turned out a number of men who have left their impress upon the state and nation.

With best wishes to you and your splendid family, I remain,

As ever,

W. C. Simons

Dear Frazier:

Clint Kanaga send me an interesting letter on August 30, 1951, which I doubtless answered at the time, but which occasioned another letter to him at this time. In his August letter, he sent me a copy of the Newsweekly, Toronto, Canada, which contained such a nice, complimentary article about yourself.

In answering Clint's letter I have written some things which I think may interest you, so I am sending you a copy herewith.

Mr. Jim Pine
9239 Walnut
Bellflower, Calif.

Dear Jim,

I am glad that the spirit moved you to write me your good letter of December 18. You speak of growing old, and yet I think you are quite a little younger than myself. I have no desire to be the last leaf on the tree, but I shall try to await patiently and to be as active as I can as long as I am here.

I do not believe, however, that I should like to live as long as some of my ancestors, who topped the 100 mark. Life seems to be dear to everyone no matter how old they may be, but I rather like that quotation from Shakespeare to the effect of one wrapping his gown about him and lying down to sleep. Shakespeare pondered quite a good deal not only over this life, but that which is to follow.

There isn't much news that I can think of to tell you other than that Lawrence seems destined to become a still larger city than it is. We have the Sunflower Ordnance plant here and Wesvaco Chemical plant and an active cannery and are to have another bank. All of these things tend to further growth and prosperity.

In spite of the floods, there has been no serious movement on the part of the people of North Lawrence to seek higher ground. The weather here has been quite open. We had a little skim of snow some weeks ago, which is now practically all gone.

I shall be glad to hear from you at any time.

Cordially,

17 Dec. '51.

Dear Mr. Simons —

Your fine Xmas card just arrived. It is so nice of you to always remember me — and I always look forward to hearing from you.

You and your family always bring to mind many entirely pleasant associations (even if we never did get that foot-race). Perhaps I should be glad of that though for you would probably have beaten me.

Dolph's position in the Alumna Association is a source of pride to me — and in some it is to you. He's a fine fellow — and I'm proud to know him.

I seem to have gotten quite involved in Boy Scout work this year. The National Office got my name — and have had me teaching in National Camping School, Wood Badge Course, on Scoutmasters Advisory List, etc. But, it's worth while — and in addition I have a good Scout troop. Out of 111 Scouts in troop since I organized it we have had 20% Eagles; others in proportion.

Thanks so much for your card. Please give my best to all your family — and to you a fine Christmas — and may 1952 treat you royally!
Yours, Lifty Spruel

J. L. Frazier Honored By Chicago Office

After 37 years with The Inland Printer, Chicago, in one capacity and another, J. L. Frazier, Q.C., has retired as editor and manager but will continue to handle the "Specimen Review" department of the paper and a signed column each month.

On Friday May 4 he was guest of honor at a luncheon given by Chicago members of his staff, members of the Quarter Century Club, and department heads of other U. S. Maclean-Hunter publications. Twenty-four attended the function held in a private dining room at the Bismarck Hotel.

N. C. Rockwood, consulting editor of Rock Products and a fellow-member of the Quarter Century Club, made the presentation address, paid tribute to Mr. Frazier's outstanding editorial service and loyalty through the years, and read telegrams from members of the New York staff. The gift to Mr. Frazier was a portable typewriter.

Responding with a witty speech, Mr. Frazier answered the question often put to him recently: "Why should a young chap like yourself, in the prime and vigor of life, want to retire?"

"Too many widows in the world now," he explained. "I don't want to be responsible for adding one more. Lots of people talk about retiring and having time for fun. Mrs. Frazier and I decided that instead of just talking about it, I should do something about it. I have never felt better in my life and I feel there should be many years of active life ahead, but we are going to use at least part of our time for travel and recreation."

Mr. Frazier paid tribute to his staff and the art and production departments for their loyal co-operation, singling out for special mention three secretaries who had "meant so much to me personally with their wonderful efficiency and loyalty." Miss Kate Griggs, for many years his secretary up to her retirement a few years ago and now nearing 80, was pres-

British Printer To Show At Festival of Britain

A letter from Manager Cyril Waring, British Printer, to Executive Vice-President F. S. Chalmers, Q.C., reports that a copy of the March issue of British Printer will be on display throughout the Current Festival of Britain in London, England. The letter reads, in part:

"You will therefore be pleased to hear that a copy of the March issue, submitted by me to the Council of Industrial Design, was accepted for exhibition in the 'Design Review' section of the Festival of Britain. A copy of each issue of the 'B.P.' published during the Festival will be on show in a suitable binder in the 'Design Review' section.

"I attended the opening of the Festival by their Majesties on the 4th instant, and found that the 'B.P.' was the only journal then being exhibited as purely representative of the printing industry. The only other journal on show, directly connected with the printing industry, was 'Paper & Print.'

"I have also ensured that copies of the 'B.P.' are on display on the P.P.A. stand at the British Industries Fair, and in the various buyers' lounges and clubs at the B.I.F.

"Three copies of the May issue have also been sent to the United Kingdom Trade Commissioner for display and use at the Commercial Information Bureau of the Canadian International Trade Fair commencing at the end of this month."

Editors Fly To Montreal Attend Glass Plant Opening

R. A. McEachern of The Financial Post, G. F. Maccabe of Canadian Homes and Gardens and James Thomson of Hardware and Metal were guests of Canadian Pittsburgh Industries Ltd., at the official opening of a new flat sheet glass plant in Montreal on Wednesday, May 9.

Leaving Malton at 10 a.m., via TCA DC3, in company with a dozen other press representatives, the party landed at Dorval at 12.20 noon. After spending the afternoon touring the plant and discussing its operations with company officials, the party boarded the plane at 6 p.m. and arrived at Malton at 8.20. Such is the tempo of modern travel.

1747 Pharmacopoeia To Show Is Owned By Stan Tolan

Next month, the British Columbia Pharmaceutical Association will observe its diamond jubilee with an historical exhibition.

Among the exhibits will be a handwritten Pharmacopoeia owned by Stan Tolan of Drug Merchandising.

It seems that while Stan was serving in Italy with the Canadian army he purchased this volume at a bookstore in Florence for the princely sum of $3. And the book is handwritten, handbound in vellum and was issued in 1747. The languages used in the book were Latin and Italian.

Supply Department Has Its Face Lifted

Even a stranger to the Supply Department in the basement of the downtown offices could find his way unaided through the rows of letterhead, envelopes, advertising releases, booklets, carbons, etc., and come up with just what he was looking for. Now, that is, that the Supply Department has had its face lifted.

It's taken months of work by W. G. Taylor and his two assistants to get everything shipshape. Formerly, losses were sometimes unavoidable. Papers piled on the floors and in any available space were difficult to find, often not clean enough to use; envelopes caught up in the seepage of moisture from the walls and floors stuck together hopelessly.

Now the envelopes are stacked in boxes neatly placed on wooden platforms, the stationery piled on shelves with samples of the enclosed goods glued at the top for easy reference. The rows for supplies are marked off alphabetically, can be easily located with the supply book instructions as guide. Cardboard plaques cover pillars and rough packing cases. In short it's neat as a hospital operating room. And Mr. Taylor and his assistants deserve credit for a job well and efficiently done. With daily delivery services at 8.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. everyone is getting faster, better service.

Plans For 1951 Golf Tournament Drawn Up

MEMBERS OF THE GOLF COMMITTEE

The Golf Committee has announced its plans for the forthcoming season in the tournament for the H. V. Tyrrell Memorial Golf Trophy. This year it will be held on Friday, June 22, at the Uplands Golf and Country Club.

For those who are not familiar with the course Uplands, which has recently been brought back after being closed for a few years, is located immediately north of Thornhill Golf Club. According to members of the Committee who have played there this year it is a well-laid-out course and in good shape. The Club House has every facility.

Because of good selling and high financing on the part of your Committee there will be no increase in the price of tickets this year — dinner, lucky draw and golf will come to $3. Golf only will cost $1.50; dinner only, $2. Tickets will go on sale shortly.

The Handicap Committee asks that you please obtain your Club handicap or your three best '51 scores by Friday, June 1.

Committee arrangements this year will be in the hands of the following: Handicaps, J. M. Jackson, L. W. Housley, K. Gazzard; Prizes, D. Alcorn, L. W. Housley; Entertainment, J. R. Knox, M. Donnelly, T. Milligan, B. Posgate; Physical Arrangements, A. H. Malpass, W. H. McKelvey; Publicity, A. B. Gardner, E. A. Webb; Tickets, D. E. Ray.

Montreal News

Murray R. Chipman, Q.C., director and Montreal manager, was guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon of the convention of the Stationers' Guild of Canada. His subject was "Your Canada — Country of Destiny." Mr. Chipman's speech was well received. One guest, Al Aigner of G. J. Aigner Co., Chicago, introduced himself as an advertiser with "Inland Printer," said he found Mr. Chipman's comments concerning Canada most interesting. He also agreed that too many Canadians underestimate their country and its potentialities.

H. F. Spearing, managing editor of Canadian Stationer and Doug Alcorn, advertising manager, were in town to attend The Stationers' Guild Product Exhibition being held at the Mount Royal Hotel, May 14, 15, 16. Charlene Champness of Chatelaine and H. L. Southall, group manager of the Merchandising Newspapers Division, were the other Montreal visitors.

Paul Deacon, Eastern editor of The Financial Post, left last week for a trip through the Maritimes to gather material for The Financial Post's "Report On The Maritime Provinces." He will return Sunday, May 20.

ent. Also present was Miss Lois Willy, his secretary for 10 years until about five years ago, and his present secretary Mrs. Patricia Palais.

Vice-president E. R. Gauley spoke on behalf of the Company, pointing out that while as an editor Mr. Frazier had written an outstanding record in documentary form, in a broader sense he had written a record of character and achievement by his life. The respect and confidence in which he is held by the industry his paper serves, by his staff and associates and by the officers of the company, were cited as evidences of Mr. Frazier's successful career.

With Mrs. Frazier he is leaving within a few days on a month's visit to Florida.

Steno Memo

Mrs. Sabine is back with us at last. She has been away sick for over three weeks now, and although she's not completely recovered, it's good to see her up and about.

Another English immigrant has landed in Steno. Leila Pelican arrived in New York, spent two weeks in Pittsburgh, and came to Toronto just over a week ago.

Leila's hobbies are travel and toxopholy. She's been to France, Belgium, Austria, Spain, Switzerland, Italy and Luxembourg . . . to mention a few. But the toxopholy had us beat. What was it and how did it start? "Well," said Leila, "an Australian came into the office in London and asked if anyone wanted to buy a bow. I said that I'd have it. So I landed with the thing and decided to take up archery. It's good fun. Oh, and by the way, that makes me a toxopholite."

Father Johnston Razed Over Son's Berries

Ken Johnston's been taking quite a beating over his new berry patch.

The associate editor of Hardware and Metal had always considered himself a fair gardener until . . . Well, here's what happened.

Ken bought some raspberry canes. He planted them behind the garage, cut them down to within a few inches of the ground, and tossed the cuttings in the ash can. His eight-year-old son decided to play farmer. He rescued the cuttings, stuck them in the ground near the house.

"Looks as though I'm going to have a nice crop of berries" young Ronald said one day. "I pulled up a couple of my shoots and there were whiskers on them." Ken chuckled to himself, and went on fertilizing and watering his slumbering fruit roots.

"Quite a berry patch you have," commented a neighbor the other day. Ken grinned wistfully and replied "Not so sure; they haven't begun to show any sign of life."

"But they're coming out in leaf . . ."

Ken followed the direction of the neighbor's finger. It was pointing, not at his berry patch but at junior's "farm." And there, sure enough, leaves were sprouting from the stems.

"Well I'll be . . ." he began, then stopped abruptly. "Say, that reminds me. We buried a dog there. Perhaps we'll have a crop of dogwood berries."

A short story of hers was also accepted by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for its series, "Canadian Short Stories." For some time now, as editor of Fashion Buyer she has concentrated on fashion writing and editing.

For some time Maclean's Editorial has been seething with the excitement engendered by Lois Harrison's holiday in Europe. Each morning Lois would go into a telephonic huddle with her travel agent (Uncle Frank) and rush out at lunch time to relieve the tension by buying something new and gay (red hat, red shoes, red scarf, red bag, red handkerchief . . .). Every night she would study maps and guides and her trusty manual on the Dutch language. Although the book on French grammar was mislaid early in the general melee, Lois picked up from Eva-Lis Wuorio a few Parisian phrases which she felt would take her far.

Lois Harrison Leaves For European Trip

Now the consultations and celebrations and prolonged leavetakings are over. The front office resumes its air of quiet efficiency, and Maclean-Hunter settles down to await the impact of Lois' return.

It's Smart To Be Neat Around Machinery

Safe

Unsafe

The summer is almost with us and for comfort we don light clothing. Both indoors and outdoors we need to dress according to the prevailing temperature. Fortunately in our plant we have air-conditioning which provides ideal temperature, humidity and ventilation. When the temperature outdoors is a sizzling 95 deg. or a frigid 10 deg. below the plant interior has a moderate temperature which enables us to work with the same efficiency throughout the year.

In view of this the Safety Committee

Keep your eye on the Safety Chart. We have worked 66 days without a lost-time accident. Keep up the good work.

feels that the habit of wearing a shirt outside the trousers is unnecessary and unsafe. We are aware that this relaxed mode of dress is chosen by a few younger employees and we urge that the practice cease.

It is through experience that our older employees have chosen clothes that are worn to provide personal safety — no ties, loose shirt tails, watches, rings, etc. So, young men, copy the example set by your fellow employees then you will be Safe, Neat, Smart.

Globe Trotting For Glamour Subject Of Wilcox Speech

Mayfair's fashion editor, Vivian Wilcox, went up to Sudbury for a day and gave a talk to the Women's Canadian Club there on the subject of globe trotting in search of glamour. She told them a little bit about fashion and about her trips to various countries to take fashion pictures. She was impressed by the hospitality afforded her in Sudbury. In the morning she was taken on a very hot but interesting tour of the International Nickel Co.'s smelter at Copper Cliff. The red-hot furnaces and molten slag were quite overwhelming but lunch at the Copper Cliff Club and an afternoon drive around Lake Ramsey and Sudbury cooled her off before dinner and her speech in the evening.

The Missing Bolero

Males are frequently puzzled by the names the female uses to describe her wearing apparel. One such puzzled poet sent this to Newsweekly after reading the following "Lost" item in the current issue:

Lost: Bolero with orange lining lost at M-H Bowling League Party, April 27. Would finder please get in touch with Bernice Smith, Payroll.

"Who took Bernice's bolero?
Its absence is certainly queer-o
For it's mighty unkind
To purloin (orange lined)
A bolero whose owner's not near-o.

"Poor Bernice! — her hopes are at zero,
She's probably shed quite a tear-o;
So, whoever took it,
Return it, don't cook it;

(But meanwhile — what is a bolero?)"

Editor's Note: A bolero, according to Webster, is a lively Spanish dance; the music accompanying such a dance; or a short jacket without sleeves.

Civic Administration Editor Turns Smoke Eater

Tom Patterson, recently promoted from news editor to associate editor of Civic Administration, is currently on an editorial tour of the Western Canada circuit for a month. It will take him as far as Victoria, and back to Winnipeg by May 23 to attend the annual conference of the American Water Works Association, Canadian Section.

It is Tom's first tour of the circuit, also the first for the new Speed Graphic recently purchased by Civic Administration.

Tom got the real feel of the new camera while in Brandon when he was interviewing Fire Chief George M. Bain, and getting a shot of him.

Reports Patterson: "It took me all afternoon to get his picture. They had three fires going at once and two more within two hours. I really felt like 'Scoop' Patterson on one of them — it was a grass fire right beside four big oil tanks. I had the camera with me, so jumped on the fire truck and went tearing through the streets with the fire crew. However — anticlimax — the fire was not large and was out before getting to the oil tanks."

Merry, Merry
Christmas

Just a few little lines
of remembrance,
Just a friendly note
of good cheer,
But a whole lot of pleasure
in saying:
"Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!"

Dec. 18-1951.

Hope the dear
people of Lawrence have recovered
somewhat from that awful flood.

Dear Mr. Simons:
How time flies when you get along in years.
They say you are supposed to grow old gracefully, but that is hard to do when you are on the last lap.

I was very glad to get your very friendly letter last January. I am always glad to get any news from my old home town.

I see according to the papers
you are having a blizzard, hope it doesn't prove too severe, as it is pretty tough on the poor people.

We had it cold here a few nights, it was around 30.
The weather is very pleasant
here again.

I still have many pleasant
memories of my last trip to Lawrence, although my visit was far too short.

Hope you have an enjoyable
Christmas with your children and grandchildren. Sincerely,
Jim Pine.

Dear Lefty,

I was very glad to get your letter of December 17. I have always been fond of you and am interested in yourself and general welfare.

I think I have told you that your father used to remind me a bit of my own father, who died when I was only six years old. A boy misses a great deal by not having a father, but I was extremely fortunate in having a wonderful mother. I have been fortunate not only in having a wonderful mother, but I was fortunate indeed to have had an unusually fine wife and mother-in-law. Women have undoubtedly had a great part in shaping my life. Having been reared by my mother instead of causing me to lean upon women and to expect too much from them, it has had a contrary effect in trying to save them from any unnecessary trouble or effort. As you know, I have three fine daughters, and while none of them live in Lawrence, I see each one quite often.

I was always so busy that I never had much time for outside work and therefore never became identified with scouting. I think it is mighty fine that you like the work and are able to give time to it. The future of this old world depends upon our boys and girls.

I shall be glad to have you write me frequently.

Cordially,

W. C. Simons

Journal World

Dear Collie:

I know that of all the many reasons that you have for being satisfied with your splendid achievements as a publisher, the greatest is the good job that Dolph is doing carrying on the traditions that have made the Journal World such an effective spokesman for the light and the truth.

Here is hoping we elect a Republican President in 1952, which is another way of saying I am wishing just about the happiest New Year to you and yours.

With affectionate good wishes,

Alf M Landon

Dear Governor:

Thank you very much for your kindly letter of December 19. I am proud of Dolph and also of his two fine sons, Dolph Jr., now in the Marines, and John, a sophomore at K. U. So often boys born into families able to care for them become more or less frivolous, but in my son, Dolph, and in his boys I deem myself especially fortunate. They are as clean cut in character and as fit mentally and morally as one could wish.

I too sincerely hope that we may have a Republican president. I do not think that Truman is so much a bad-man as he is an incompetent one. His training came under leadership that could hardly have equipped him into a well-rounded conscientious statesman. I feel our nation will be long in recovering from the effects of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

With continued good wishes, I remain,

Cordially yours,

W. C. Simons

Dear Adna and Jane,

I see you have discarded the use of "Birdie", which as I recall was the name by which we know you best years ago. A lot of water has gone under the dam since then, and of it in 1903 and 1951 went by so rapidly that it paid no attention to the dam. This was hard on people living on the lowland north of the river and to others in the river valley, but Lawrence itself lies so high that it is not troubled by floods.

The old town would seem very different to you. In the first place, the old hotel has given away to a five story brick. The old theatre and post office have given away to a fine post office building erected by the government and a large modern theatre, intended by Mr. Bowersock to be a sort of memorial for himself. His name, however, did not cling to the building very long. It first was called the Dickenson and now the Jayhawker. In talking to Mr. Bowersock one time, I suggested to him the advisability of erecting some sort of a memorial by which he could be remembered by future generations, and at that time he said that he expected the theatre building to do that for him and in accordance therewith would spend more money upon it than he otherwise would have done. Today to the best of my knowledge, there is nothing in Lawrence bearing the name Bowersock. In looking at the telephone book, I find that I am mistaken and that the mills and power company still bear the name Bowersock.

I used to think that Lawrence would have a population of 20 or 25 thousand and now I look forward to a considerably larger city. We have the Sunflower Ordnance works a few miles to the east and a large Westvaco Chemical plant in North Lawrence. The University still caps the top of the hill, but the University grounds now include what used to be the Brown dairy farm, which you may remember by outside supports to keep the wall from sliding down the hill. The homes of professors and others especially interested cover the hill for perhaps a mile to the west of old Fraser hall.

Don't put off that visit to Lawrence too long. We shall be very happy to have you as guests at our home.

With love and best wishes, I am,

Cordially yours,

W. C. Simons

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Lawrence, Kansas
February 7, 1952

228.700

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:

DO YOU FAVOR THE LOCATION OF OFF-STREET PARKING FACILITIES ON THE WEST SIDE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE STREET BETWEEN THE 800 AND 900 BLOCK?--- This would provide an inboard location and greatly improve the appearance of the business section.

The proposed lot would park approximately 117 cars and estimates show it can be acquired at a cost of approximately $550 per car stall.

The City Commission has asked for an expression of opinion on this matter. They are anxious to implement the off-street parking lot program voted by the people of Lawrence--- however, they need your support and ideas to get the job done.

We must always remember that Lawrence is a growing city. We are bound to encounter opposition to improvements and it is customary for those opposing anything to be more vocal than those in favor.

The decision will be determined by your interest. CALL THE BELOW LISTED CITY OFFICIALS AND GIVE THEM YOUR OPINION.

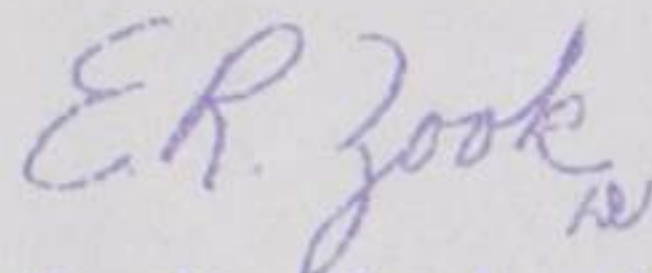

Mayor Chris Kraft - Telephone 244 or 3689
J. H. Wigglesworth, City manager --Telephone 460
Commissioner John Crown - Telephone 129 or 3709
Commissioner Simon Hurwitz - Telephone 696 or 3657
Commissioner George Bradshaw - Telephone KU 284 or 1826W
Commissioner Lew Henry - 1725 or 2366

PUSH FOR OFF-STREET PARKING LOTS NOW--- Express your opinion.

No City stands still -- it either goes forward or backward -- which way will Lawrence go?

Sincerely,

THE LAWRENCE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mr. E. R. Zook
Manager
Chamber of Commerce
Lawrence, Kansas

Dear Mr. Zook:

I certainly am in favor of securing better parking facilities for the people of Lawrence. In the days gone by, the thing to which we had to give attention was the matter of roads because in certain seasons of the year farmers had great difficulty in reaching the town.

Lawrence is an educational center, which is of value to it, but fundamentally we are just another good trading community, and our prosperity depends upon cordial relationship with our customers, which includes naturally a place for them to put their car when they come to town.

I wish to commend you in general upon your good work as manager of the chamber of commerce.

Cordially yours,

W. C. Simons
