

Samaritan went to his aid and because he did, he was glorified by Christ, and has lived thru the centuries as an example for us.

It seems to me that this story is particularly applicable to you as Nurse's Aides.

You are busy women. Some of you have sons in the service, you have your home duties, the care of your families, and it has been almost impossible for you to secure proper help, yet you take your time to bind up the wounds of suffering humanity. You have given service frequently to those, who because of physical or mental condition, are fretful and seemingly unappreciative.
