Change Of Diet

"Rastus, employee at one of the movie studios in Los Angeles was drafted by a director to do a novel comedy scene along with a lion," tells Major Jack Allen, who films animals in their native lair.

"You get into this bed," ordered the director, "and we'll bring the lion in and put him in bed with you. It will be a scream."

"Put a lion in bed with me!" yelled Rastus in dismay. "No sah! Not a-tall! Ah quits right here and now."

"But," protested the director, "this lion won't hurt you. Nero was brought up on milk."

"So was ah brung up on milk," wailed Rastus, "but ah eats meat now!"

PLAYS OPPOSITE ERNIE

PUFF! PUFF!

Here is a story from a local picture show: "Topics of the Day" Films were being shown. They included the story of the man who when asked if he liked Omar Khayyam replied, "I never drank it," and whose wife objected: "You ought not to have said that - it's a kind of cheese."

A girl in the audience laughed and said, "That's a good one," and the girl next asked, "Well, what is it?" The first girl replied, "A cigarette."

HE LOVES ADVENTURE

Major Jack Allen, wild animal filmer, first showed a desire for adventure at the age of 5 years. It is said that he ran off into the mountains at every opportunity and his parents usually found him playing wild Indian or snaring rabbits. Now he captures the untamed beasts of the jungles in their native lair.
