The story about Mamma was sweet and true and good - We can never say too much of her wonderful courage and character - I wish I was half as good a woman as my mother - Estelle is a wonderfully good woman - I worry about her a good deal because she does not and will not take proper care of herself - and I think the Realbs in that part of town depend upon her to do too many things they should do themselves. She has neuritis in her back and sides & ever she overdoes and has to go to bed - She would shock me awfully if she knew I told you for she does not want to be thought ill or ailing -
