

In literature, music, physics, economics and in political science, they have won recognition. Our greatest export has not been our abundant food products, our fuel, our salt, but it has been the flesh of our flesh--our beloved, educated, well trained sons and daughters.