Dear Mr. & Mrs. Simons.

He was so sorry to read in our paper the passing of your fine father, and want to express our sympathy to your family. He are very glad to have had him for a good neighbor and a friend, but the time was too short. It was very hard for him to come here, since Mrs. Simons passing, he told me that several times, and I feel, he is very happy now, that he has joined her again, so try and not feel too bad.

You see when you grow older, and your lives have been so pleasant together, when
