Dear friend Dolph:

I was sorry to read about the death of your father. Although I haven't seen your father for a long time I can still remember him at different places and meetings a number of years ago. He was a strong personality. There is little that your friends can say or do to relieve the sorrow which is yours today but I did want you to know, Dolph, that I was thinking of you. I trust that the memory of your good father will guide and comfort you in the years to come.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

RWR/self
