

The first part of the book is a preface by the author, in which he explains the purpose of the work, and the manner in which it has been compiled. He then proceeds to a list of the contents, which is divided into three parts. The first part contains the history of the country, from the earliest times to the present. The second part contains a description of the natural history, and the third part contains a description of the civil history.

The second part of the book is a description of the natural history, which is divided into three parts. The first part
 contains a description of the minerals, and the second part contains a description of the plants, and the third part contains a description of the animals. The third part of the book is a description of the civil history, which is divided into three parts. The first part contains a description of the ancient history, and the second part contains a description of the middle history, and the third part contains a description of the modern history.