

3 it Sufers noe dead flesh to m gendes or a bide where it cometh 4 it Cureth the head ache rubbing the temp els theire with by it cureth a Suilt fleame face it it helpeth sinews that be shrunke or sprunge or stiffe or sprunge with labor or wax dry for want of bloud it draeth out usually Jarne Arows heads stubs splinters thournes or what so ever is fixed in the flesh or wounds it cureth the biting of a mad doge or the stinging of any uenamos Creature it cures all fellons and whit flaws it is good for all can kers it helpeth all aches of the liver spleen kidne ys back sides armes or leges it Cureth all boyles and blaines boches and impostims swellings and tumors in any part of the body it helpeth all aches and pains of the geniters in men or women it cureth Scabs and Itch kinches spraines strains gouts pallsays dropes and waters betwene the fl esh and skinne it helpeth the himkoyades or pills in men or women it Cureth the bloody fluxe if the belly be anoynted therewith if you make a seare cloth therewith for all the a bove said malladys with many others proved

For a prick with a naile or a thorne Briese a Shell snaille and lay it to the pricked place

To make a Salve To heale and draw

Take a quarter of a pound of uirgens waxe 2 ounces of sheeps sweet and melt them together