

To Make a fine drink called Hydromell which the muscouys make with Straberys Cherrys ^{mulberry} or Rasberys which is and exelent drink and very good

The hydromill that is made with Rasberys is the best of all and most pleasant to make it well they put the Rasberys a soking in faire water for 2 or three nights till the water hath got their tast and exelent in to this water they put some of the purest honey allowing to every pound of honey three or foure of water. as they would have the hydremill strong or small they put in to it a tost diped in the dregs of beere which is taken out as sone as the hydrom ll begins to work least continued longer it shold give it and ill tast. if they desire it shold be long a working they put it in to some worme place but if it be for present drinking they put it in a cole place whear it sone gives over working and then is taken ofe the lees to be spent to beter the tast of it they put in a litell bage of Sinamon and grains of paradise with some few cloves some in sted of faire water steepe the Rasberys 24 hou in comone aquite which gives the hydremill an exelent tast.
