

last Satisfaction or being at all close to the door where he was sitting before he discovered me, he started and seemed not a little surprised, however he soon became collected & entered into conversation with me, the questions he put, & his manner of questioning, his Curiosity about all my dress, as well as indeed the state of his house, & household appendages, really put me very much in mind of my old friend Rob. Cruik, what with his Goats Poultry & the like, not least in number his Black Servants, two thirds of whom were women whose Curiosity (naturally) was much greater than his so much so, that he was obliged once or twice to send them away
