

appearance of the Town, I don't know, but I was out of humour with every person, & thing I saw, to be sure, tis a loss we shall feel very severely, & God knows how often we shall hear from our friends; but to continue with the account, I mean all I can give of Bapstere Town ^{St. Kitts} which is the name of this Town & will do of the Road. I am sorry I can say nothing ⁱⁿ its favour, on the contrary I never was more disappointed, nor felt more vexed with myself, for having taken such a tiring walk, without the