tallod, wch ꝺ I maiꝺ cause my Counsell: I appeale to God first, my first Iudge, and to the Iustice my Allie[d]es

E: Trer. Hereto the Lorde Cren said, Maddam wee cause sett downe yo[r] petistatow under a Notaries hand, and agains wee cause petitioned that the petistatow bee not prioriall to the Crowne of England.

L: of Scotts The Queene said, nicedeo my Lord yo[u] take[n] noe Comission but that that main serue yo[r] turne, yo[u] cause done the worst yo[u] main, I cause offered that yf I might bee at liberti I would doe all dutie, and labour to quenche those troubles that are maue, but I could not bee gard. I nab maue beleiue that I Could bee sett at liberti, and I remitted Estayes for Securitie my owne Some and my Cousen Curles Som.

L: Trer. The Lorde Cren said Maddam yf it stund yo[u] offered Estayes as yo[u] said, and for Mr [illegible] and Comonll were contented therew[t], but the Lords of Scotland were not contented that there Kinge Could come.

But I

L: of Scotts But I told yo[u] quoth the Queene yf I might bee at liberti I would effect it.

E: Trer. The Lorde Cren said, the Queene shall sett yo[u] at liberti, and yo[u] shall seeke her destruction, for all these practises of yo[r] enlargem[t] were notemiged ilse, but a plott aga[t] the Queene, for once then upon it was a doemed, the man Morgan Erred, sarry to kill the Queene

L: of Scotts My Lord said Bee yo[u] are mine enemie.

E: Trer. Bee said my Lorde Cren I am an enemie to the Queenes enemies.

L: of Scotts Was it not said quoth the Queene that yo[r] Queene Could never bee free from practise till I were sett at liberti, and therefore desired the occasion might bee taken awaie, supposinge to preuent the effect.

Then was read a Lre to Mendoza the Spanish Ambassador in France, wherein hee promised to giue the K. of Spaine the Kingdomes of England and Scotland yf hee Som would not bee withdrawne from that Enterprise, wherein (they said) hee was mistod. A Lre also to Doctor Allen was read, wherein hee tolde
