

3
it
cl
it
or
it
sp
fl
or
a
ke y
a
tr
a
it
g
c m
b
c
w poultres and lay it one the best when the milke is full cume change it once a day also put in some oyle of dill or seede brused or the hearbe or some suthern wood

For Bloud Shoten eyes

Take the bloud of a stock dove and for lack of it of and other dove or pigen droppe a litell in to the eyes and wet a cloth in it and laped upon the same helpeth whether it be of stroke or other wise sumet ime the same cometh of coler then the party feleth great heat sharpe prickings and much pains and comonly their appeareth noe gume in the eye if at their doe it is yelow ther for you ought to give him a pu rge to purge coler as hath bene said of the kemad eys of the head proceeding of coler and in the begining of the headness lay upon the eye tow dipped in the w hite of and ege well beaten with rose water and pl antan water.

For The stone proved by R fowle

Take the stone ~~the~~ stone that is in a cray fish shs head and take it in powder not a bove 2 grains at a time in whit wine proved

And other for the Stone proved

Take the m^{or} skine of a wood pigen and dry it to powder and take as much as will ^{be} upon a grate in a glas of whit wine

And other proved for the Stone

F
ounces of sheeps sewer and men men