words) gone forth of the Cabbin where the said Pokagan had been disputing wth Ejni about the principles of our Religion, especially about the merrit of works and free will wch the said ffryer maintained.

About July last the said Dor. Bust met wth the said ffryer in the Strand neere London who tooke acquaintance of the said Bust, but Ejr knewe Ejni not, wch the ffryer perceiving, asked Ejni, Cane ye forgett yo father Pokagan that dide ye many courtesies in Spaine at Lisbourne, wch the Duke of Macada Governour there, whereupon the said Bust thanked Ejni, and promised Ejni the best favoure Ejr could do for Ejni Ejre in England.

The said Bust being departed from Ejni called to minde the words wch the said Wheeler and Essinge told Ejni the ffryer Ejr had spoken in their presence in Spaine, wch Ejr imparted to one Davenport of London, a Diviner, who desired Ejni not to conceale the same, but to acquainte the Lords of the Councell therewith; who thereupon went with the said Davenport to Whitehall and the Lords Newburghe Caunsellor of Ejr (Matie Duchy of Lancast. who upon informacon of the said words, & Pokagan's arrivall into England (and that tyme lying by Lincolns Inne fields) gave the Corkyll playhouse) signed a warrant for Ejr apprehension and sent a Messinger along wth them, who after a Mooste Ejr found Ejni in the place before said.

Councell

At their coming thither the said Pokagans chamber doore was locked, and being denyed entrance the Messinger Ejr would breake it open if Ejr would not let them in, wch (after some little passage of discourse, seeing no meanes to hinder them, being longer) was opened unto them, where the Messinger, Bust, and Davenport found Ejni lying upon Ejr bed, wth two of Ejr Countrymen in the chamber with Ejni, who spake Irish amongst themselves, the Messinger at that instant looking about the roome for papers, what might discover something of the said

Poka:

University of Kansas
Kenneth Spencer Research Library
MS D153