Gohagan's plott and purpose, but founde none towards you the Messinger Commande the Said Gohagan not to speake in Irish, but in English that they might understande them.
And with all told him that he must go wth him, wch he for he would not do because he was sicke, but the Messinger replyed, that he must and should, for he was the Kings prisoner, to whome Gohagan returned this answere. I care not this must for yo king (putting his thumbe betweene his teeth and forking it backe againe)

This was disposed against him, further Gohagan answered it was not true that wch was layd to his charge, And his Argument was this.

That he could have there fore Sir Wm Courtney and Peeinge who knowe he is the Kings rouse words spoken in Spaine. And that Capt. Bust with whome he had about that time a disputation in the Cabbin, a bout money of wch, and free will, did not dare him speake these words.

Proudly he had done many Brotiall courtesies for Captaine

Bust

Bust and one Grayes, for that a Skipp belonging to the said Grayes and Bust, being Arrested, Confiscated, and seized upon for Confiscate to the king of Spaine, because it was a Flemish bottome, they by reason he got the same restored his proper one, through his bribe with the Duke of Macada.

After wch he procured a Ire of Marte, employed them to a tall strong built Skipp, wch they must dismes at a reasonable price And all this he did for them Gratis, though it was alledged they gave him no small Summe to procure him a Coate, wch he denyed, and said, price of Money was given to the Duke of Macadas Secretary for a dispatch, And confirmed that if he had thought so ill of the king he would never have shewne that favor to those men that were the kings Rebells and put strangers to him.

He saw further that it was a most ingratefull thing to requite the many courtesyes he had done for them wth this false accusation. This how
