to satisfie the world.

Sr John Wentworths Answer was, that hee would not willingly bee constrained to speake more here, then hee had done heretofore. It was true that hee was at the apprehension of Weston and did aske those questions touching the poysoning of Sr. Tho: Overbury, which hee did on two reasons, the one was because hee had seene others doe the same at the same time, and especially one Sparkes, and hee thought hee might doe it as well as hee, Another reason was, because hee not being at the Arraignem. and hearing that Weston had denyed the fact, hee was desirous to bee satisfied of the truth from himselfe, yet hee purposed not to aske any questions which hee found thither, but ill to aske questions of a man ready to apprehend words offensive to the State, hee did humbly submitt to their Lopps. Iudgment.

Sr. John Hollis Answered that giving of counsell and asking questions of Weston at the Barr, hee said & confesse it was there, but carryed with a goodly desire which hee had to see the proceedings, as hee had done in many like cases before, and hee had forewarn'd some that it was a Window thing for mere Standers by, to aske questions of those that were to bee arraigned, and now mainly against this Question of the Fact of Weston, and hee not unworthily, hee also among many others did aske him the question (as hath beene opened) which was not purposed of him when hee came thither but was occasioned by reason of one that stood behinde him at the Gallowes that said to Weston that hee should confesse the truth of this Fact, for if
