subsidies and impositions shall be levyed collected and retayned in such forme and manner as the same were levyed collected and retayned at the tyme of the decease of our late soveraigne Lord kinge James, and upon such accomptaunt and thereof as at the day of the said [illegible] patents the same were collected or thereafter should be by our soveraigne Lord that now is appointed under the greate seale of England to be collected levyed or retayned And the Ma[tie] by the same [illegible] patents did declare his will and pleasure to be that the same collections and retreight should continue untill suche tyme as by Parliament (as in former tymes) it might otherwise be absolute ordeyned, as by the said [illegible] patents amongst other thinges whereto these psents also for more certentie referr themselves, maie appeare And these defendts further say that afterwards (that is to saie) the 16th day of August in the yeare

of our Lord God 1626 the right Honble James Earle of Marlborough then Lord Treasurer of England by [illegible] under his hand and seale directed to his Ma[ties] then officers and contracted thereof of his Ma[ties] Customes in the Port of London willed and required them [illegible] to see carefull to obey the contents of his Ma[ties] said [illegible] patents punctually observed in the said Port of London and the members thereof according to his Ma[ties] said directions as by the said [illegible] doth more at large appeare, And these defendts further say that divers Marchants of London and amongst others the Complaynant (as they believe) tooke notice of his Ma[ties] said [illegible] patents and of the Lord Treas[r] said [illegible] and directions therby given and at sundrie tymes afterwards and before the first day of July last past in the 4th yeare of his Ma[ties] raigne that now is in the Bill of complaint mentioned, brought severall quantities of black

University of Kansas
Kenneth Spencer Research Library
MS D153