

To heale Blisters and great sores that come with blastings

Boyle lunge worth in neats foot oyle and straine it when it is could spread it and lay it on the sores and the bl ack seare cloth over it dres it with the yle . . . . .

For and Andicome

Take saige hearbe grace Ragweed Rusty baken the crums of leened bread honey and a snail or to great worms stampe thes together and bind it to the Andicome and it will ether break it or dri ue it away . . . . .

To stope any losness

Stampe Slows and straine them with moad and drinke it twice or thrice . . . . .

And exelent poultes for a sore lege Take a good handfull of chickweed a handfull of sulentine a handfull of mallows boyle all thes in uery stronge beare till they be tender then put in ha fe a pound of sweet butar and lay it to worne

A uery good purge to take at any time safly it is also good for and Ageing being taken upon the good day so must all vnets

Take a pint of posat alle or whit wine boyle in it 2 persly roots one fenell koot and sickrish stick half a sponfull of any seeds boyled it till almost halfe be consumed then put halfe and ounce of Seney and let it soke upon the embres and not boyle and houre