Kings Cuel

Memorandum that one a pore man of Sandwich had his daughter to the king for it and he said that the kings surgen first laid a faire plaister upon the sore that the king shold not be loth to come to the pacient and then she was broth to the king who laid his hand upon her face and said I tuck thee and god heale thee and then put a pece of gould hunge a ribin a bout her neck and after the kings surgen spread a litell plaister and laid upon the sore and gave her father as much uch as a nutmege to ke new it 4 or 5 dayes and told ld him that it was nothing but flowre and honey and that when it was spent they might make more and use it if they thought good this the pore man a bout a fortnight at which time he had hops that his daughter was cured for the sore that before was filthy sore and mater was then all most dryed up onely a litell yelow scabe upon it but she had and other bunch new cume upon her throte that they cold not tell what it sh old be but they did hope that it wold goe a way memo andome after the king had hunge a pece of gould one of the kings Chaplens led a praire the kinge and the rest kneeling
