

Dubrovnik, "Pearl of the Adriatic" in the days of the republic, 1469-1808. Founded by the Republic of Venice, it was a free city and a member of the Holy Roman Empire. It was destroyed by the Yugoslav People's Army in 1991 during the Croatian War.

Historical photographs of Dubrovnik, showing the city's architecture and people. The photographs are from the 19th century and are part of a collection in the Dubrovnik Museum.

Map of Dubrovnik and the surrounding region, showing the city's fortifications and the harbor. The map is from the 19th century and is part of a collection in the Dubrovnik Museum.

Historical photographs of Dubrovnik, showing the city's architecture and people. The photographs are from the 19th century and are part of a collection in the Dubrovnik Museum.

Historical photographs of Dubrovnik, showing the city's architecture and people. The photographs are from the 19th century and are part of a collection in the Dubrovnik Museum.

Historical photographs of Dubrovnik, showing the city's architecture and people. The photographs are from the 19th century and are part of a collection in the Dubrovnik Museum.