JAMES WATSON DEAD.

A Former Resident of Lawrence Dies in Colorado.

Word was received in Lawrence this crown him a millionaire.—Atchison morning of the death of James Watson at his ranch near Rico, in Colorado. The death came on very short notice, as it was son will put a force of miners at work | not learned that he was sick till Sunday, on the "J. E. W." tunnel August 1st. when his daughter, Miss Carrie Watson, There are three known veins of pay ore left Lawrence to go to him. She got only on this property and they will be cut in as far as Denver, when news of her father's death reached her.

> The remains will arrive in Lawrence on the early train Thursday morning from Colorado, and announcement of the funeral will be made tomorrow; it will probably take place from the Episcopal church early Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Watson will be very well remembered by the older residents of the city and county, having been one of the first settlers. He was prominent in the early history of the county and from 1874 to 1878 was county treasurer, and from 1878 to 1883 was city treasurer. He owned the property now belonging to Col. H. L. Moore at the corner of Mississippi and Henry streets, which he had acquired from Jim Lane. Mr. Watson held a warm place in the affections of his many friends in the county, and his death will come as very sad news to them.

Funeral of James E. Watson.

The funeral of James E. Watson took place at 10 o'clock this morning from the Episcopal church of this city. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Ayers and Rev. Dr. Beatty, and were very largely attended by the many friends of the deceased. Mr. and Mrs. George T. Nicholson and Mrs. Watson arrived in the city last evening to attend the funeral, and the remains came in from Colorado this morning.
