Prof. George M. Beal, e'23, g'25, of the Dept. of Architectural Engineering attended the state meeting of the Kansas chapter of the American Institute of Architecture, Oct. 17 in Wichita. Professor Beal, who is secretary-treasurer of the Kansas chapter, gave a report of the national convention of the organization which was held in Washington this past April.

Dr. William L. Burdick, vice-president of the University, delivered an address Oct. 27 at the dedication of the memorial park in Sedalia, Mo. This is Doctor Burdick's third dedicatory address for the Memorial Park Corporation of America. He spoke at the dedication services of the memorial park in Lawrence and at the one at St. Joseph, Mo.

Dean Robert M. Davis of the School of Law attended the meeting of the American Bar Association in Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 23-26.

M. C. Del Manzo, formerly superintendent of the Lawrence schools and a member of the faculty in the School of Education is now provost of the Teachers' College at Columbia University in New York, according to word received from John R. Barnes, '21.

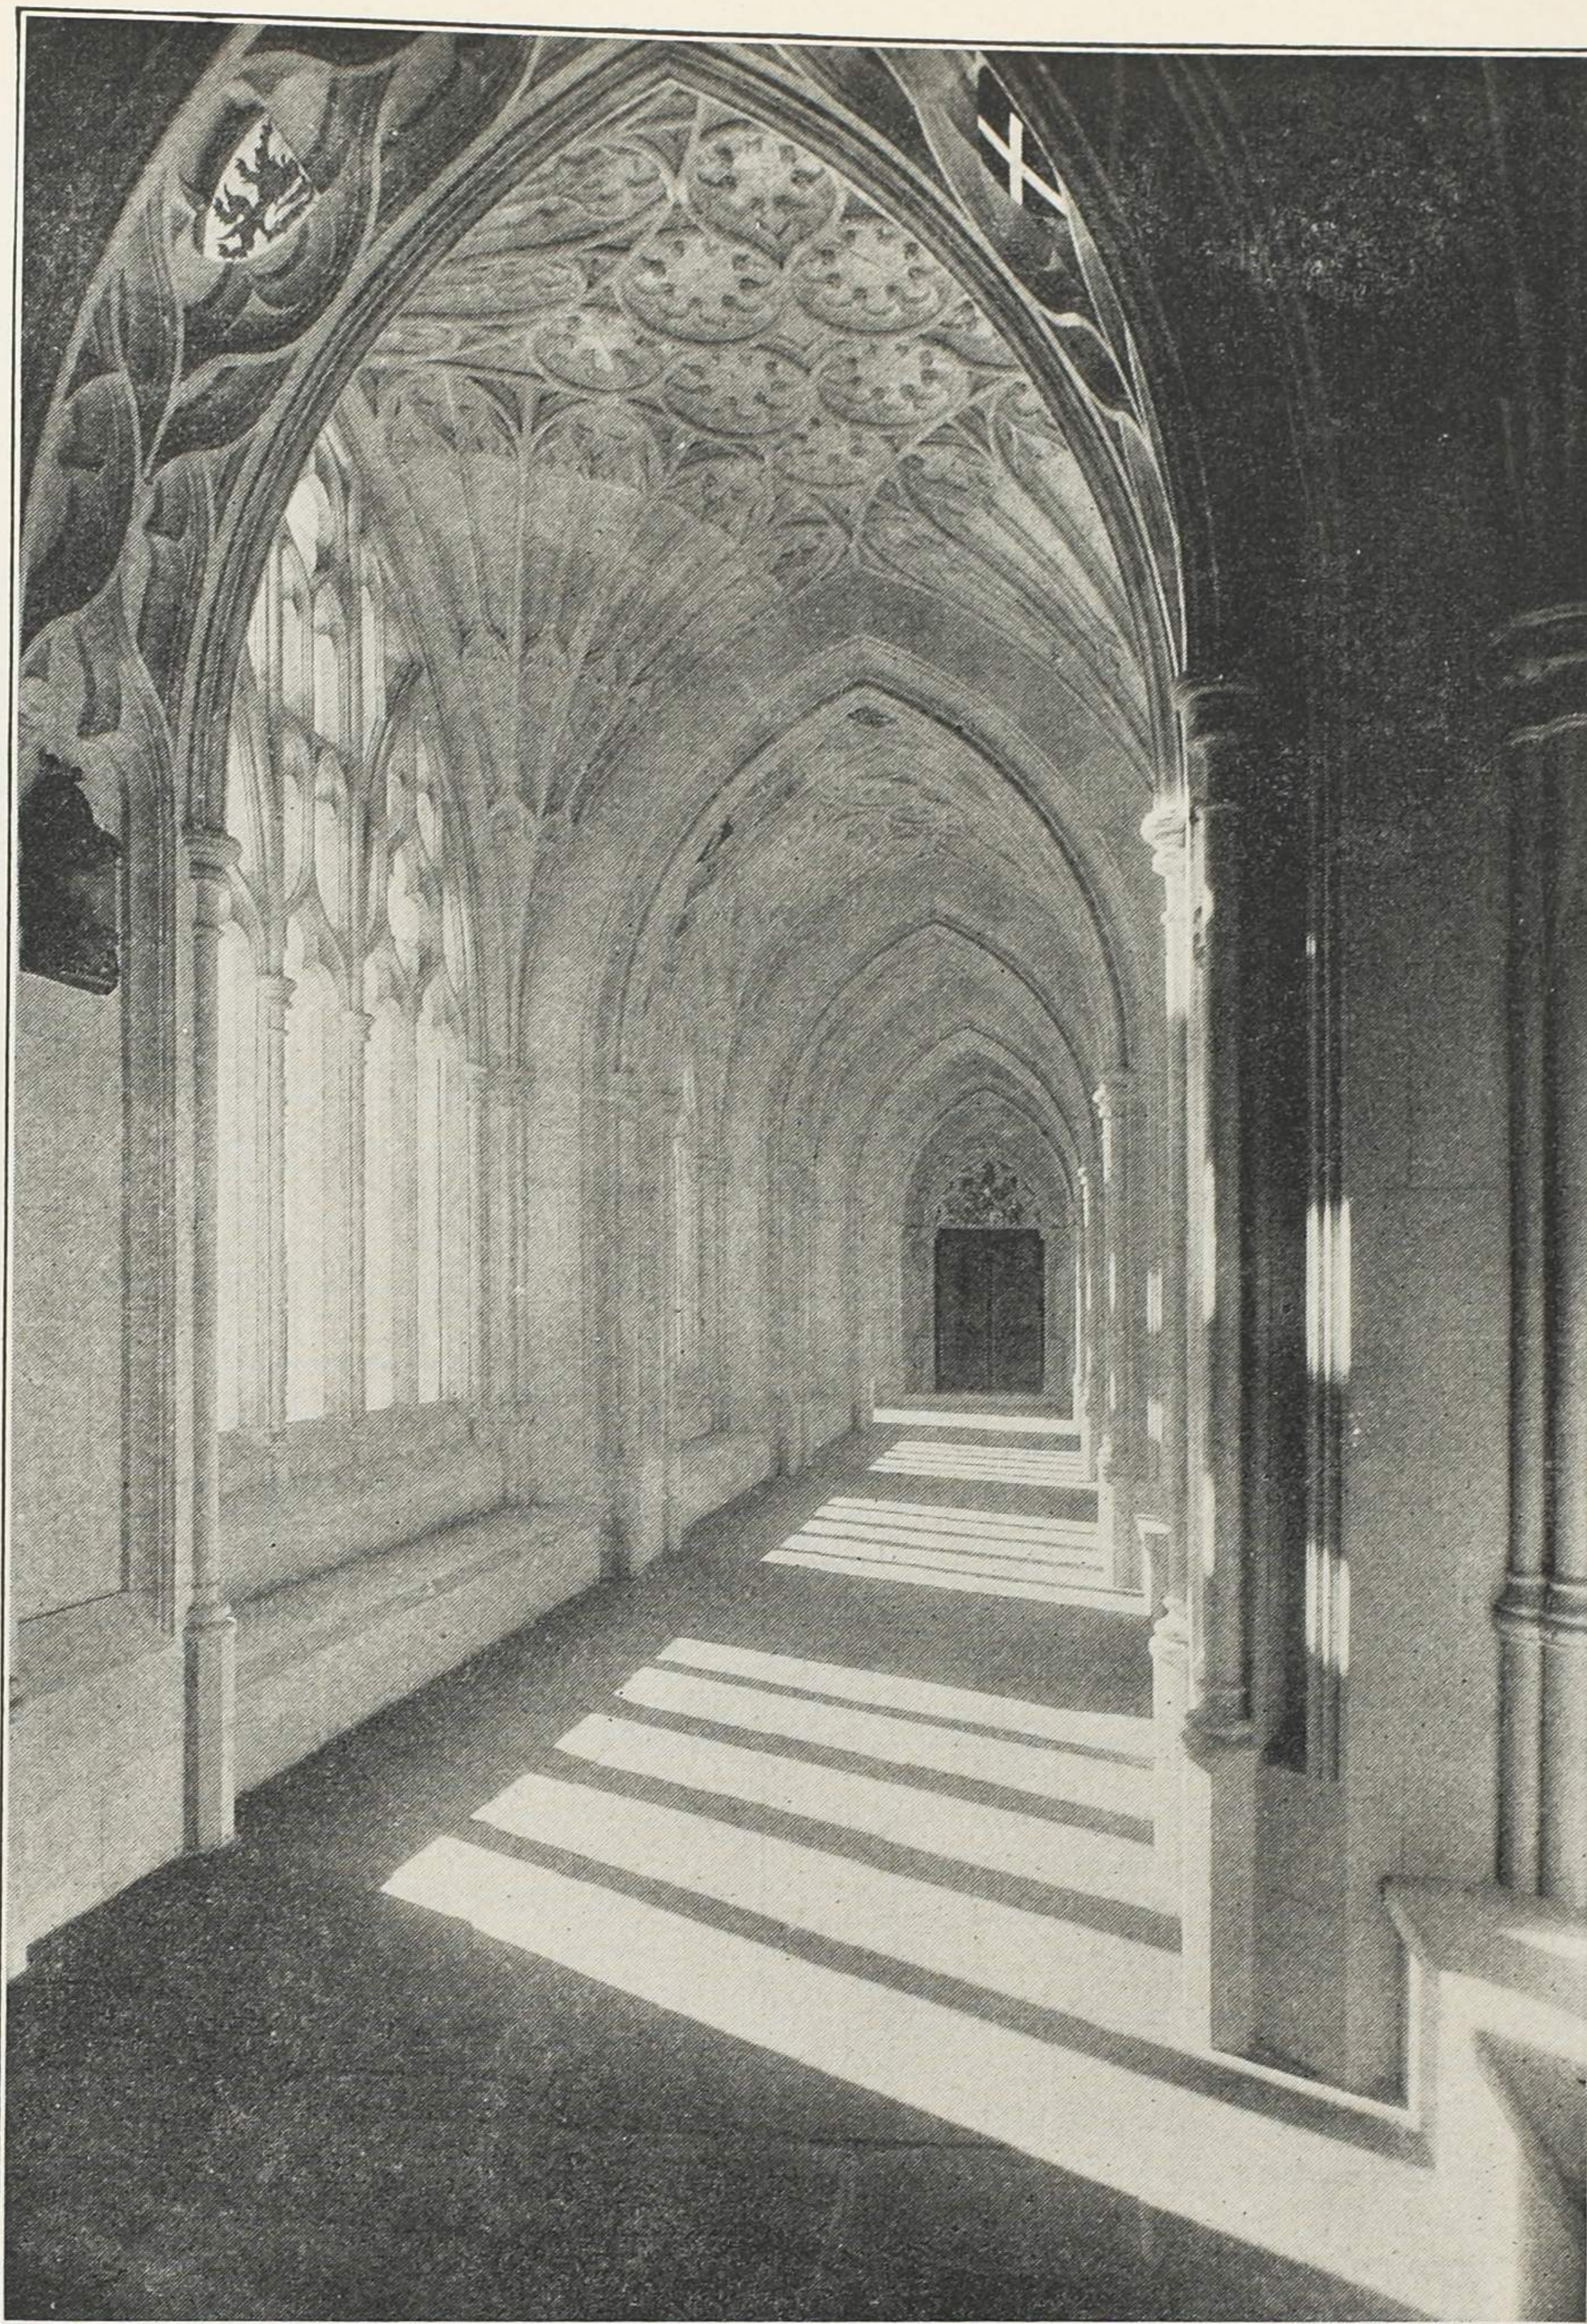

Prof. Waldemar Geltch, head of the department of violin of the School of Fine Arts, accompanied by Mrs. Geltch, were absent from the University for two weeks in October while Mr. Geltch played a series of concerts. He appeared in programs at Fort Smith, Ark., Hot Springs, Ark., Arkadelphia, Ark., Monticello, Ark.

Dean L. D. Havenhill, p'03, of the School of Pharmacy, and Prof. D. H. Spencer, '93, p'97 and several senior students in the school attended a dinner and meeting given by the McKesson-Faxon Drug Co., at the Kansas City Athletic Club Oct. 23.

Prof. Henry F. Holtzclaw of the School of Business together with Prof. William V. Lovitt of the mathematics department at Colorado College has just published a new book on Statistics. Because of its clarity and rich illustrative material the book will be of especial interest to teachers of the subject. It should also prove valuable to others who have need for ways of illustrating facts and combinations of facts. Such graphic examples as the use of pie charts, hundred percent bars, compound and multiple bar charts, curves and many other diagrammatical ideas are shown. The book also takes up the discussion of different index numbers and shows the difference between Bradstreet's, Dunn's and others.

Earl L. Moser, formerly assistant professor of finance in the School of Business, has resigned his position at the University of Oregon to enter the organization of the Vacuum Oil Co., with headquarters in New York City.

L. D. Willcutt & Sons Co., Builders. Built of Indiana Limestone.

Architecture's Ideal Medium is Natural Stone

THE architect's finest work practically without exception has been executed in natural stone. No other building material so ideally expresses the design.

It is no longer necessary to compromise on some less desirable building material, for modern production methods and large volume make Indiana Limestone moderate in cost. No matter in what part of the United States the new building is to be located, this beautiful light-colored natural stone can be laid down at costs that compare favorably with those of local stone and only slightly higher than for other materials.

It is the policy of this Company to figure costs on any set of building plans without expense or obligation of any kind. Why not, since this is so, have us make an alternate bid on your new building?

What Part of My Income Can I Lay Aside for Life Insurance?

CONCRETE FACTS speak louder than words.

Here is the actual program of a young man, 28, married, with two children. His income is $5,000 a year.

The annual premiums amount to about $600, leaving a balance of $4,400 for the support of his family, an easy proposition for ambitious young parents looking to the future.

What does he get for his $600?

An estate of $30,000, $5,000 to be paid in cash at his death, the rest held in trust to pay $100 a month to his widow during her lifetime, the remaining principal to go to the children after her death.

If you are interested in arranging an estate for yourself, let us help you make your plans to suit your own needs.

Prof. Carl A. Preyer, teacher of piano in the School of Fine Arts, has been made a 33rd degree Mason, the highest honor in Masonry, according to a report received from the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masons in Washington, D.C. Sherman G. Elliott, '00, '01, was made a Knight Commander of the Court of Honor.

Dr. Stuart A. Queen, head of the department of sociology at the University, is conducting a course in elements of sociology which is being given to Topeka students. The course carries with it three hours of University credit under the extension division of the University and is being offered in Topeka under the auspices of the Topeka Council of Social Agencies. Lectures are held once a week in the assembly room of the Y.W.C.A.

Dean R. A. Schwegler of the School of Education spoke Oct. 24 and 25 at a meeting of the southwest division of the Minnesota Educational Society which was held in Winona and Mankato, Minn.

George C. Shaad, dean of the School of Engineering attended a meeting of the executive committee of the seventh geographic district of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Oct. 19 in Dallas, Texas. Dean Shaad was the councillor delegate of all the engineering schools in this district. The schools included all the colleges in Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas which have branches of the American Institute of Electrical Engineering.

Several members of the faculty of the School of Engineering appeared on the program of the meeting of the Kansas-Nebraska section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, which was held in Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 9. Those who spoke were Prof. E. D. Hay, Prof. F. N. Raymond, and Prof. F. A. Russell.

Dr. N. P. Sherwood of the bacteriology department gave an illustrated lecture on Tuleremia at a banquet given by the Douglas County Medical Association for the Franklin County Medical Association and the Douglas County Nurses' Association, Oct 10. The banquet was held in the basement of the recently completed Lawrence Memorial hospital.

Prof. Charles Skilton's one-act opera, "The Sun Bride," is one of thirty-three operas selected by the National Broadcasting Co., for performance over the radio on Wednesday evenings this year by the National Opera Co. The date is May 14, 1930, coming at a time observed rather generally over the country as "Music Week." Professor Skilton's work is the only one of the thirty-three to receive its first performance over the radio, and the second opera on record to have such a premier. The only other opera of the series by a native American is Cadman's "Shanewis."

Dean E. B. Stouffer of the Graduate School has been traveling as an inspector for the American Association of Universities. He visited Missouri Valley College at Marshall, Mo., Hendricks College at Marshall, Mo., Hendricks College at Conway, Ark., and the University of Denver at Denver, Colo. This work is being done to aid in classifying these different schools.

Helen Wagstaff, '20, of the University Extension Division was elected secretary of the Kansas Library Association at the annual meeting held in the public library of Kansas City Oct. 16, 17, and 18. Several members of the staff of the University Library attended the conference.

Prof. Raymond H. Wheeler's new text book, "The Science of Psychology" received most favorable comment in the section "Check List of New Books" in the American Mercury for November.

"This textbook on psychology, is as good a one as there is in print," states the American Mercury. "It is written in the main from the so-called organismic and configurational standpoints. Doctor Wheeler, who is professor of psychology and director of the laboratory at the University of Kansas, thus pays more attention to the phenomena of social behavior than the writers of older texts."

The criticism is concluded by the tribute, "He writes clearly, and what is rare for men of his profession, with great caution."

Dr. F. H. Guild, head of the department of political science, and Clyde F. Snider, instructor in the department, have published an intensive study of legislative procedure in Kansas as the first of a series of governmental research studies.

Agnes Husband, '11, dean of women, attended the national conference of deans of women Feb. 18-20 at Detroit. Miss Husband is chairman of the University section of the organization.

Karl Klooz, University bursar, and Mrs. Klooz have adopted a daughter born Dec. 9, to whom they have given the name Jane Annette.

T. A. Larremore, formerly professor of law and director of the Glee Club at Kansas, has been made director of the recently formed glee club of the Syracuse, N.Y. American Legion. It is expected that the club will have a place on the next New York state Legion convention and it may become affiliated with the Adriadack section of the Associated Glee Clubs of America. Tom is a voice student at Syracuse University.

James C. Malin, professor of history, has published a book on "The United States After the World War" which has received much praise from critics. A leaflet containing a number of commendations for the book has been issued by its publishers, Ginn & Co.

Dr. James A. Naismith, head of the department of education and originator of the game of basketball, will have a memorial erected in his honor if plans suggested by Dr. F. C. Allen, director of athletics, are carried through. Doctor Allen proposes that a voluntary game-tax be placed on admissions to basketball games and the proceeds used to establish a Naismith memorial in honor of his achievement.

Dr. Bruno Radtke, exchange instructor in German at the University, was the speaker at a banquet of the alumni association of the Kansas City chapter of the American Institute of Banking, held Dec. 11 at Kansas City, Mo.

Frank T. Stockton, dean of the University School of Business, recently had published in the Deltasig, publication of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, an article on "Standardized Degrees in Collegiate Business Schools." The article has been reprinted for distribution among the business school deans of the country, and has also been reprinted in the Alpha Kappa Psi diary. Much editorial comment supporting Dean Stockton's views concerning a standardized degree have appeared in several business journals. A report of the Dean's discussion before the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business at their 1930 meeting appeared in the October issue of the University of Chicago Journal of Business.

Mrs. P. F. Walker, wife of the late Dean Walker, is on a tour around the world. She wrote Lawrence friends about Christmas time that she was then in Honolulu.

Dr. Raymond H. Wheeler, head of the department of psychology, was appointed recently by ex-governor Reed to serve on a committee of twelve from the state of Kansas to work out a permanent plan of organization to meet emergency unemployment and to work out plans to help combat business depression in future years.

The Christmas holidays was convention time for several departments of colleges and universities of the United States and Canada. About 30 K.U. professors attended various meetings. The convention for geologists was held in Toronto, Canada; the bacteriologists met in Boston, the psychologists journeyed to Iowa City, and most of the remaining departments who met in conclave had their sessions at Cleveland.

At the geology meeting K.U. was represented by Prof. Walter H. Schoewe and Prof. K. K. Landes. Professor Schoewe read a paper on "Form of Wind Faceted Pebbles," and Professor Landes presented papers on "Origin of Domes in Lincoln and Mitchell Counties, Kansas," and on "Paragenetic Classification of Magnet Cove Minerals."

Selma Gottlieb, assistant professor of chemistry, presented papers on "Studies in Precipitating Reaction II," and "Further Studies on Conditions Influencing Formation of Precipitates" at the meeting of bacteriologists. Cora M. Downs, associate professor of bacteriology, also attended these meetings and presented a paper on "Studies on Tularemia Infections in Rabbits and Guinea Pigs."

From the department of zoology Dr. A. A. Schaeffer and Dr. W. J. Baumgartner represented K.U. at a meeting in Cleveland. Dr. Baumgartner read a paper on "A New Method Used in Studies on the Living Cells of Insects." Dr. Schaeffer presented a description of a new theory of molecular protoplasm that is explained in more details elsewhere in this issue.

Prof. Dinsmore Alter, professor of astronomy, delivered four lectures before the meeting of the American Meteorological Association at Cleveland. The topic discussed by Professor Alter were "Success of the British Isles Test with Long Range Rainfall Predictions," "Modification of the Multiple Correlation for Prediction Purposes," "Preliminary Report on an Analysis of 203 Years of English Rainfall," and "Continuation of an Analysis on the Planetary Tidal Hypothesis of Sun Spots."

The departments of political science which met at Cleveland had as their representative from K.U. Prof. W. E. Sandelius, who presented a study of "National Sovereignty vs. the Rule of Law." Professor Sandelius was also the official representative from the Kansas chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, which had its national convention in conjunction with the Cleveland meeting.

Prof. Mabel Elliot attended the Cleveland meeting of the American Sociological Association.

Economic professors convened in Cleveland where Prof. Henry Holtzclaw of the University sat in on the sessions.

Dean Paul B. Lawson, and Professors H. B. Hungerford and Raymond H. Beamer attended the meeting of entomologists, also held in that city.

From the psychology department K. U. was well represented at the Iowa City meeting by Professors Raymond H. Wheeler, Harry R. DeSilva, Beulah M. Morrison, in addition to F. Theodore Perkins, S. Howard Bartley, Donald M. Purdy, Dr. Thomas D. Cutsforth, and Marjorie Cutsforth. Dr. Wheeler presented a paper on the "History of the Descriptive Unit in Psychology," and Theodore Perkins in conjunction with Herbert Jasper, professor of psychology at Iowa University, presented a paper on the "Investigation of Chronaxie in the Human Subject by the Constant Method."

Prof. D. M. Swarthout, dean of the School of Fine Arts, and Prof. C. S. Skilton attended the meeting of the Music Teachers' National Association at St. Louis. Professor Skilton read a paper on "The American Composer and the New Day."

At the national meeting of the Modern Languages Association at Washington, D.C. Prof. John H. Nelson, of the department of English lectured on "John Galsworthy as a Poet."

Prof. C. F. Nelson, of the biochemistry division, attended a meeting of the Southern Medical Society at Louisville, Ky.

Coaches H. W. Hargiss and Mike Getto attended the meeting of the National Football Coaches' Association in New York City.

ing for a job in New York City, but I am not discouraged yet." James stays at Prospect Park Y.M.C.A., 357 9th St., Brooklyn, N.Y. and does some poster work for the Y. When he wrote in late October he intended soon to be studying mural painting at the Art Students League. James has done the cover on the Graduate Magazine the past two years. Here's hoping the New Yorkers soon discover and recognize his artistic ability as well as his good nature.

Bob Borth's young brother Bill, a Freshman this year, reported several weeks ago that Bob is doing well in his work in the business training section of the G.-E. Co., at Schenectady, N.Y. He plays basketball with the business training section team and this fall got to see the Army-Louisiana State football game. While at West Point he met Charles Broshous, fs'31, formerly of Atchison, who is a cadet and is on the Army squad. Herb Peterson, b'30, rooms with Bob.

Marian Drake has a teaching position at Oketo.

Otto F. Frederikson, Ph.D., is a professor of history and social science at the State Teachers College, Harrisonburg, Va.

Helen Hennessy contracted the rare and dangerous Malta fever in Kansas City where she has been bacteriologist at Manora Hospital since graduating last spring. The last report from Helen indicated that she was recovering, but complications accompanying the fever makes its treatment difficult and recovery slow. Helen is at her home in Iola.

Frank McClelland was nominated for attorney-general of Kansas on the Socialist ticket, but since Frank is a sociologist and not a lawyer, the party changed his place on the ticket to Lieutenant-Governor. Said Frank, "This attitude, I feel, is entirely justified, and I am altogether willing to change." At present, Frank is attending K.U. on a fellowship in sociology.

Bill Nichols, reporter on the Larned Tiller and Toiler, journeyed with his mother to Lawrence the first week in December to see Raymond Nichols, '26, who was in a hospital for an operation.

Rowena Partridge, fs, and her beautiful voice are appreciated out in her home town of Delphos. Since leaving the University she has kept on with her voice training and Dec. 29 gave a recital in Delphos which drew 400 persons. She sang Italian, German and American songs and received for her efforts the warmest praise.

Archie T. MacDonald, l, practices with the law firm of Anderson & MacDonald, McPherson.

W. L. Peters, e, and Mrs. Peters get in touch with the alumni office from out in Huntington Park, Calif., where they live a 7118 C. Rita Ave. They seem to be in good health and good spirits, and fast getting the California complex, for they end their good letter with, "Wish you folks back there could be out here to enjoy this grand weather. Last week we went to the mountains for New Years and in two hours from sunshine and warmth we were in snow up to our knees and it was colder than the dickens." Have they forgotten how in Kansas the weather changes many times from balmy, spring-like atmosphere to a blizzard almost in the twinkling of an eye?

John Schrag, g, continues his studies at K.U. this year. He lives at 1130 Ky. St., Lawrence.

Donald F. Showalter, Ph.D., heads the department of education at the Arkansas State A. & M. College, Jonesboro.

Frederick D. Trillingham, b, is enrolled in the graduate school at K.U. His address: 1325 Tenn. St., Lawrence.

Dr. E. H. S. Bailey has gone to be at the home of his son Herbert for the winter. Address: 1122 N. Euclid, Ontario, Calif.

Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Burdick will make a tour of world starting in September. Dr. Burdick intends to visit seats of government in various European countries with the view to completing several manuscripts upon which he is working. They will return the fall of 1933.

Dr. H. P. Cady, '97, g'03, has recovered from a long and severe case of laryngitis which attacked him about the first of October and kept him speaking in a whisper until Christmas. His efforts to continue his lectures doubtless resulted in the continuance of the hoarseness. He is now able to talk in private conversation and has lectured to some small groups of graduate students. He hopes to resume lectures to large classes the second semester.

Prof. E. F. Engel, '92, of the department of German, will again be chairman for the north central district of Phi Beta Kappa for the triennium 1931-34. Eight states with fifteen chapters of Phi Beta Kappa are in his district.

Prof. H. F. Holtzclaw, of the School of Business, is author of "Agricultural Marketing," a book released recently by the Ronald Press, New York. It is to be used as a text and reference book for college classes.

Miss Rosemary Ketcham, head of the department of design became ill while visiting relatives in the East during Christmas vacation. She is recovering but has been absent from her classes since the holidays.

Chancellor and Mrs. Lindley visited during Christmas holidays in the home of their son, Ernest K. Lindley, and Mrs. Lindley, in Pennsylvania, near New York City. The chief attraction was the little grandson, Johnathan, just three months old, whom the adoring grandparents had not seen. While in New York Dr. and Mrs. Lindley saw several alumni, including Florence Finch Kelly, '81, Jerome Beatty, fs'08 and Dorothea McKnight Beatty, fs'19, Lawrence Morris, l'14, and Virginia Goff Morris, '15, and Henry McCurdy, '21, and Mrs. McCurdy.

Dr. James Naismith returned to Lawrence Jan. 11 from a trip to New York City where he went to deliver an address to the Society of Physical Education sponsored by the Windgate Memorial Foundation for the promotion of athletics. His speech will be published in a volume in which are to be found speeches of only the foremost athletic authorities of the country, and will eventually be used for the promotion of athletics. While in the East Dr. Naismith learned of the illness of his uncle at Almonte, Canada and he went to the bedside of his relative before returning to Lawrence.

Dr. C. F. Nelson, head of the department of biochemistry, read a paper Jan. 12 before the Topeka Dental Society. "Calcium Metabolism in Health and Disease," was his subject.

Prof. J. H. Nelson, of the department of English, suffered two falls during Thanksgiving vacation, one of which resulted in what was believed to be a concussion of the skull. He was absent from his class for some weeks but it now on the job again though not fully recovered.

Prof. F. N. Raymond, instructor of English in the School of Engineering, was elected president for the coming year of the Lawrence Sons and Daughters of New England.

Dr. L. V. Redman, formerly industrial fellow at K.U. and now vice-president and director of research of the Bakelite Corp. of New York City, has been awarded the Graselli Medal as a tribute of distinction for his researches on the plastics by the American section of the Society of Chemical Industry, a British organization. Dr. Redman is president elect of the American Chemical Society.

Prof. H. E. Underhill, of the Business Placement Bureau of the School of Business, went on a two-day job hunting trip Dec. 8 in the interest of students needing Christmas vacation jobs. He took in Kansas City, St. Joseph and Atchison. "It is true that paying jobs are scarce and most of them are commission jobs," said Underhill, "but out of 84 of last year's graduates only 16 are unemployed. Thirty-eight are with corporations; 11 are with private businesses; 9 are doing graduate work; and 4 are teaching school. We are expecting an equally good record this year in spite of the poor business conditions."

Prof. Raymond H. Wheeler, head of the department of psychology, has a new book coming out, "The Laws of Human Nature." It has already been issued in England by the Nisvet Co., as part of a series of books published under the title, "Contemporary Library of Psychology." In America it appears by itself, published by Appleton. The book is a presentation of organismic and configurational psychology in non-technical language, and in its relation to the more general problems in physical and biological science on one hand and social sciences, ethics, and education on the other, according to Doctor Wheeler.

Prof. E. A. White, of the department of chemistry, was in Utah in November experimenting with a well that produces 98.89% pure carbon dioxide gas. It is from this gas that dry ice is made simply by compression and quick release. Professor White says that dry ice may be made from this well ten times cheaper than from ordinary methods. It may have a far reaching effect on the dry ice industry and on refrigeration generally.

Help on Unemployment Committee

The December Graduate Magazine carried only a partial report of the part played by faculty on the Governor's unemployment committee. Both Dean F. T. Stockton of the School of Business and Prof. R. H. Wheeler of the department of psychology are members of the Committee. Dean Stockton is also a member of the executive committee and is economic adviser of the general committee. In addition to Prof. W. F. Kissick of the School of Business being technical adviser appointed Nov. 6, Prof. D. J. Teviotdale, of the same school, was made technical adviser Dec. 22 and assigned to report on management policies and educational programs that could be established in the state to minimize the effect of future depressions.

Take Part in Professional Societies

University faculty members showed their zeal for keeping up in their professions during the Christmas holidays when many of them journeyed to far scattered meetings.

FACULTY

Dr. Edward Bartow, former associate professor of chemistry at the University, has been chosen president of the American Chemical Society for 1935. Dr. Bartow was at the University for six years, 1899 to 1905 and since then has held many professorships and was on duty during the war in France as officer in the Sanitation Corps. Dr. Edward C. Franklin, '88, g'92, was president of the Society in 1923. Dr.
 Bartow is now connected with the U. of Iowa.

Prof. Albert Bloch, head of the University department of painting, took the subjects,
 "Looking at Pictures," "German Expression-ism," and "The Painter and the Picture" in delivering a series of lectures at the Denver Museum of Art under the Cooke Daniels lecture foundation during December. The lectures took place in connection with a large exhibition of work, including 40 paintings and water colors which Prof. Karl Mattern, also of the fine arts painting faculty, and Professor Bloch were asked to hold there during the month. The Cooke Daniels lecture foundation was donated to the Denver Art Museum to bring to Denver lecturers of undoubted authority or pre-eminence in their field.

Prof. Lloyd L. Boughton of the School of Pharmacy has been appointed as Kansas' member of an auxiliary committee of the Amer.
 Assoc. of Schools of Pharmacy, consisting of one member from each state. This committee is to cooperate with a special committee on legislation pertaining to the revision of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Dr. W. L. Burdick, vice chancellor and acting dean of the School of Law, spoke Jan. 5 to the annual meeting of the Southwestern Kansas Bar Assoc. at Dodge City on the Law Courts of Germany and Russia. The following Saturday he talked to the Montgomery County Bar at Independence on the Law Courts of Italy and France. He reports meeting large numbers of alumni at both places. January 29 he will speak to the Oklahoma City K.U. alumni on the occasion of their Kansas Day meeting.

Worthie Horr, assistant professor of botany, and Justice Neal Carman, '17, g'31, associate professor, Romance languages, both were awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by the University of Chicago at the December Convocation. Dr. Horr's thesis was entitled,
 "Some Studies on the Utilization of Galactose cum*." Mr. Carman's thesis was, "The Relationship of the 'Perlesvaus' and the 'Queste del Saint Graal'" and was written in the division of the humanities.

H. B. Hungerford, '11, g'13, professor of entomology, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Entomological Society of America for the third time at its annual convention at Pittsburgh, Pa., during the Christmas holidays. R.
 H. Beamer, assistant professor of entomology, was made a fellow of the society at the same meeting.

Prof. R. G. Mahieu of the Romance Languages dept. returned from France the middle of December after having received his Doctorate from the Sorbonne. His degree was granted Dec.
 6 and he left the 8th. He reports an unsettled state of affairs in France politically, an increasing depression there though not so pronounced a business recession yet as exists in the U.S., and an almost complete migration of the U.S. colony from Paris since the abandonment of the gold standard.

Dr. James Naismith, professor of physical education at the University, and inventor of basketball, attended a convention of physical education directors in New York City during the Christmas holidays. While there he worked with four members of the national basketball rules committee and attended several basketball games. Adrian Lindsey, head football coach, and "Mike" Getto, line coach, attended the convention of the National Association of Football Coaches in New York City during the same period. Coach Lindsey spoke before the convention on the outstanding plays in the middle-west this year.

Dean George C. Shaad of the School of Engineering has been nominated by the national organization of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers to serve as one of three new directors. He will become director after Aug. 1 to serve for four years consecutively.

Russell Wiley, director of the band, the first part of January attended the National Band Clinic in Urbana, Ill., which met to study correct interpretation of numbers used in the National Band Contest.

dents from the good old South who live on that street are threatening to move if the name isn't changed. "Apparently the Civil War is still in progress here in Virginia," says Elmer. Hilary Mahin, I, now an attorney for the Phillips Pet. Co. at Bartlesville, Okla., is reported by Kemper to have been in Washington on business lately—and took the occasion to call on some of his old friends. Likewise Red Willis, I, attorney for the Veterans' Bureau in Kansas City, was in Washington and New York not long ago.

Lt. Harry K. Shane, e, is now associate civil engineer, hydrology department, Missouri River division, Kansas City, Mo.

W. T. Stevenson writes: "Just had a grand visit with George Hollingberry, '24, in Chicago, who keeps me posted on what Jayhawks are doing." Stevenson tells, among other things, more about J. Wesley Sternberg who was reported in the March Graduate Magazine as having taken a place as special investigator with the Federal Trade Commission. Mr. Sternberg, former Kansas instructor, is making a special study of the natural gas industry that will be used as a basis for recommending new Federal legislation relative to further control of natural gas pipe lines and utilities. Stevenson is assistant treasurer of the Kentucky Natural Gas Corp. He and Dorothy Ensminger Stevenson, fs'23, and their two children, Taylor and Margaret Moore, live at 203 Phillips Court, Owensboro, Ky.

Dr. William Robinson, g, in part is responsible for the discovery of a new cure for stubborn wounds. He is employed in the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture at Washington. The new treatment is the application of a solution of allantoin, an odorless, harmless, and easily obtained product found in both insects and plants. The insect is one of a species of flies in the maggot stage that gained fame as a medical aid on the World War battle fields.

Miriam Wight will be released from her teaching position next year at Council Grove for, although she has a major from K.U., she lacks a minor, which state high school supervisors now require of Latin teachers. Miss Wight has taught in the high school there for several years. Jacquita Coe, '30, will take her place.

Dr. Robert A. Woodbury, g'28, Ph.D.'31, tells us that his baby boy, George Robert, has reached the five-months stage. Dr. Woodbury has a position at the University of Georgia in the School of Medicine as assistant professor in the department of physiology and pharmacology. The family lives at 1232 Belmont Drive., Augusta, Ga.

Honor Naismith at Springfield

Dr. James Naismith, professor of physical education, this spring is one of four alumni of Springfield Y.M.C.A. College, Springfield, Mass., to be honored with the award of the Edward Morris Tarbell medallion at the commencement dinner of the college. The award bears a replica by the sculptor, R. Tait McKinsey, boyhood friend of Dr. Naismith in Canada, of a plaque entitled, "The Joy of Effort." Dr. Naismith, internationally famous as the inventor of basketball, was instructor of physical education at Springfield College from 1891 to 1896. Later he became physical education director of the Y.M.C.A. in Denver, Colo. It was in 1898 that he came to the University as professor of physical education. In 1910 he was presented with an honorary degree of master of physical education from Springfield College.

has now been moved to the Bartlesville office for his headquarters.

Archibald B. Oliver won the national contest on American Legion post histories in which more than 1000 post historians took part. Oliver's history of the Eli Farrell Dorsey post, Liberty post and Dorsey-Liberty post and their auxiliaries of Lawrence is included in a manuscript of 281 pages. Awards for the contest are to be made in September at the national convention of the American Legion in St. Louis. Oliver will receive an inscribed gold medal. His post will get an electric sign and the state department will receive a loving cup. Arch is now working on another history of the local posts and auxiliaries which will be presented soon. He lives at 1747 Kentucky St. in Lawrence.

William O. "Bill" Rice, I'28, breezed in late in May from Chicago for a two weeks vacation visit in Lawrence and Topeka. This immediate past president of the Chicago Jayhawkers still has the old K.U. fire burning in his soul. He will try to get his vacation arranged a bit later next year so as to be on hand for the tenth anniversary reunion of the great class of '26. He is a worthy staff member of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago.

Dr. R. A. Schwegler, Jr., will open medical practice in Lawrence soon, taking over the office and equipment of the late Dr. G. W. Jones. Young Dr. Schwegler took his medical degree from the University of Minnesota in 1931 and has been on the surgical staff of the University hospital since. He is now completing his work on his Ph.D. degree. He is the son of Dean and Mrs. R. A. Schwegler of the School of Education.

Bob Dills, b, and Lucile Gabel Dills, fa'32, now live in Ft. Smith, Ark. Bob is with the Arcola Sand Gravel Co.

Walter V. Freese, g'29, continues to be a faithful follower of the University. He read the Daily Kansan regularly this year. Student problems and student government are two of his major interests and he always looks forward to the K.U. athletic season. "I am at heart a strong Pachacamac and believe the opposition this year was good for the old party," says Walt. He recently was re-elected superintendent of the city schools at Clyde.

Regina Gottlieb, dietitian in Menorah hospital at Kansas City, talked to the Home Economics club at the University April 30 on the possibilities for home ec majors getting work as dietitians. Miss Ruth Campbell, social case worker from Anderson county, also spoke of the opening in social work for trained home economists.

Stanley Lindley, son of Chancellor and Mrs. E. H. Lindley, makes a speedy recovery following his recent siege with pneumonia, and is able to walk about some. He holds a position as assistant at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.

J. Clifton Ramsey, I'30, has been elected president of the Lawrence Rotary Club. He and Helen Feller Ramsey, '31, will go to the International meeting of Rotary at Mexico City in June.

Otto O. Smith, g, and Irene Ainsworth Smith, '31, in February announced the adoption of a four-months old baby girl, to whom they have given the name, Virginia Irene.

Louis, e, and Mary Lee Robbins Feil, fa'30, were in the alumni office May 9 on vacation from their duties at Ft. Peck, Mont., where Louis, an architectural draftsman, is an inspector of general construction on the great dam being built. Louis had great stories to tell of the mammoth structure which will stem the flow of the Missouri. The dam is 225 feet high and 1 1-2 miles long. The shore line of the impounded lake will be longer than the Atlantic sea board. Louis helped plan the Government city of Ft. Peck in which about 5000 persons now live. On the project are about 2,000 government men and 5,000 civilian employees. Many of each live in Glasgow, Mont., 20 miles away. The city of Ft. Peck is completed and the tunnel used for carrying the river flow around the site of the dam is also done, according to Louis. Other K.U. men mentioned in the conversation as being on the works include: Herb Pennington, e'27, draftsman in the dredging section, Bob Gebo, fs'28, draftsman, Allan Buckley, e'29, of the dredging section, Bob Mandigo, fs'34, a surveyor, and Bob Noble, fs'33, of the general engineer's office. after Commencement for a journey and visit with relatives and friends in Omaha and on the West coast. A convention in Vancouver, B.C., also called her. She expects to stop in Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Prof. E. M. Hopkins, deserting the school-room by degrees, planned to spend the first three weeks of his vacation on committee work for the National Council of Teachers of English, in Los Angeles and Seattle. The mountains will claim the rest of his summer.

Dr. and Mrs. James Naismith left Lawrence June 7 for a summer's travel and visit tour. In Dallas, Tex., for three weeks they were to visit Helen Naismith Dodds, '20, and family and James, Jr. '33, and wife. Then they were to go to New York for a few days and on to Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Naismith's childhood home. She will remain there during the summer and he goes on first to England and Scotland, where he has many relatives, thence to France to review war time scenes where he served as a Y.M.C.A. executive, and then to Berlin for the Olympics, which open Aug. 1. There, as inventor of the game of basketball, he will be an honor guest. After the Olympics he will visit the Balkan States and Italy, making a tour of 14 countries in all.

Prof. F. T. Perkins, '30, Ph.D.'34, of the department of psychology, is attending the conference on curriculum and guidance at Stanford University, Calif., and will take part in the panel discussion. Attendance of 1,000 is expected at the conference which takes up the social and psychological foundations of curriculums, guidance programs, and educational developments.

Staff Changes for Next Year

Promotions are:

R. W. Warner, who for the past year has been exchange professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to be chairman of the department of electrical engineering, succeeding D. C. Jackson, Jr., who resigned a year ago to become president of Lewis Institute, Chicago. Prof. R. H. Frazier of M.I.T. has been exchange professor here, in Professor Warner's place.

From rank of associate professor to professor: L. E. Anderson, organ; George M. Beal, architecture; Domenico Gagliardo, economics; Bert A. Nash, education; Dr. N. F. Ockerblad, urology (at Bell Hospital).

D. J. Teviotdale, associate professor of economics, who has been on leave the past two years to serve as assistant director of the Kansas State Planning Board.

A True Experience

MEMORANDUM

To J. C. Higdon, Home Office Subject Selling All 3

Last week I called on a laboratory technician. I was showing him our sales-maker and explaining our exclusive "All-Ways" plan when my interview was suddenly interrupted by a ring of a "call" bell. I was folding up with the promise of a later appointment when another fellow in the laboratory said, "Say, I overheard what you had to say about that policy and what it will do-- I am interested--tell me a few things".

When I walked out of that laboratory I had an application for $2,000 All-Ways, $100.00 monthly indemnity plan and check for initial quarterly premium. Even though it was after six, I felt like tackling another prospect. By seven o'clock I had another signed application for $100.00 a month accident and health policy on an annual basis.

My prospects for 1938 are very bright. In fact, they've been getting better and better each year--for the complete service we have to offer makes it possible for me to write an increasing amount of quality business.

J. C. Higdon

YES—BMA SALESMEN FIND IT EASIER TO SELL COMPLETE PROTECTION

The above letter is typical of the experience of hundreds of B.M.A. salesmen who each month are writing an ever-increasing volume of business. No doubt, a great portion of their success can be based on the fact that B.M.A. offers personal protection against all forms of income loss —

Capt. Wm. I. Brady, fs'20, of the K.U. department of military science and tactics has been transferred to the Panama Canal. He will continue at the University till the end of the school year, however. Homecomers of last fall will remember Captain Brady as the energetic and capable chairman of festivities.

Prof. E. C. Buehler read a paper "What Chance Has Truth in Debate" at the meeting of the Central State Teachers' Assoc. meeting in Columbia, Mo., this month. Miss Margaret Anderson, g'25, assistant professor of speech, also attended the meetings.

Dr. H. P. Cady, '97, g'03, who produced the first two cubic feet of helium and turned it over to the United States government, is strongly opposed to the sale of the lighter-than-air gas to Germany. "I am absolutely certain that the Germans intend to use the helium for purposes of war—" said Dr. Cady, after delivering a paper on "The Development and History of the Helium Industry" at the ninety-fifth meeting of the American Chemical Society at Dallas April 22. Dr. Cady would like to see the U.S. government retain a complete monopoly on helium and undertake further experiments with the gas, which promises to have many commercial uses.

Prof. Carroll D. Clark, '22, g'25, and Prof. Loren C. Eiseley were on the program of the Midwest Sociological Society convention at Des Moines, April 21-23. Prof. Noel P. Gist, on leave from the University this year, presided at several sessions of the convention.

Prof. Loren C. Eiseley of the sociology dept was recently elected to the council of the American Anthropological Association.

Miss Rosemary Ketcham spent a recent week end in Iowa City, where she acted as judge for a state-wide art exhibition held at the University of Iowa. Karl Mattern, assistant professor of drawing and painting, served as one of three judges for the annual Midwestern Art exhibit held Jan. 20 and 21 at the Kansas City Art Institute.

Prof. U. G. Mitchell, '06, g'07, is the author of a booklet "The Study and Teaching of the History of Mathematics," which has been reprinted from the National Mathematics Magazine for October, 1938. The paper was first presented before the American Association for the advancement of Science, meeting in St. Louis, Mo., in 1936.

Dean Frederick Moreau is the author of one of the leading articles in the Journal of the Kansas Bar Association for November, "What Constitutes a Practical Legal Education." The same issue contains five "comments" by second and third year law students at the University. Harry Deutch, William Kirby, John Farley, Omer Voss, Charles Ward, Eugene Buchanan, Charles Henshall, and Oscar Belin are the student authors.

Dean Paul B. Lawson, g'17, Ph.D.'19, was called out to western Kansas during January, to take part in the dedication ceremonies for the fine new high school at Oberlin. Dean Lawson spoke at Oberlin and also at Norton, where Mary Hays, '24, g'29, and others took quick advantage of his coming to arrange speaking dates.

Dr. James Naismith has an article in the January Rotarian describing the origin and spread of the now famous game of basketball. Dr. Naismith was on the staff of the Y.M.C.A. College at Springfield, Mass., when the need arose for an indoor, winter game that would appeal to the students like outdoor games. Delving into his experience with football, soccer, lacrosse, and a childhood game called "duck", Dr. Naismith added some touches of his own and showed that while there might not be anything new under the sun there were still some new combinations of the old.

The first "basket" was literally a basket—originally it had held peaches. It was nailed to a railing in the gymnasium.

The chance fact that basketball originated in a Y.M.C.A. college insured its early spread, for the young men who played the first basketball games were headed for China, Japan, India, Persia, the Philippines, many of the countries of Europe and the states of their own country.

Dr. Naismith was ordained a minister in the Presbyterian church and received his M.D. degree, but he "has never held a pastorate or put out a physician's shingle." Strangely enough however, it was his training for the ministry rather than his invention of basketball that won him his place on the University of Kansas faculty. Chancellor Snow was looking for a man who could direct physical education and at the same time conduct chapel exercises. So Dr. Naismith originally came to Kansas because he could pray.

Prof. L. A. Zurcher of the electrical engineering department attended the meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in New York City, Jan. 23 to 27.
